

SENATE PASSAGE OF STARK POLICE
BILL EXPECTED

Kinney of St. Louis in Line for Measure and Casey of Kansas City May Drop Active Opposition.

FINAL HOUSE ACTION
AT 11 A. M. TUESDAY

Motion to Give Legislation Special Setting Carries—Chairman Promises No Delay.

By CURTIS A. BETTS
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 10.—The definite alignment of Senator Michael Kinney of St. Louis with Gov. Stark in support of the Governor's Kansas City police bill, which became known today, makes virtually certain that it will be passed and that the Governor will be given the power, through control of the police, to clean up the Kansas City crime situation.

The bill will go to the Senate after action by the House which voted today to make it a special order of business for 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. Approval of the bill by the House is considered virtually certain.

With Kinney actively supporting the bill in the Senate Municipal Corporations Committee and on the floor, it is probable that five of the six Senators from St. Louis will vote for it, breaking away from the domination of Senator Casey of Kansas City, Pendergast leader. There is even a possibility that Casey, realizing the hopelessness of a fight against the bill, will not attempt to put obstacles in its path.

While Kinney refused to state for publication his definite decision to throw in his lot with the Governor, thus breaking the long-existing Casey-Kinney-Brogan Senate oligarchy, it is known from an unquestionable source that he has committed himself for the bill.

Senator Casey said he had not decided on his attitude. "I never decide those things until the time comes to act on a decision," Casey said.

None of the five St. Louis Senators, other than Kinney, would state his position, but Brogan is the only one on whom the opposition seems secure in relying. It is the expectation that Senators William J. Doran, Percy Peponis, Clinton T. Watson and Myles P. Dyer will be in the supporting group.

Doran objected to some features of the bill as it was originally introduced, particularly the provision for a bipartisan board, but with the House amendment removing that in accord with it.

Kinney and Doran are members of the Municipal Corporations Committee, to which the bill will be referred in the Senate, and with their support a favorable report undoubtedly will be made within a few days after it reaches the committee.

Senator George D. Clayton Jr., of Hannibal, chairman of the committee, plans to rush consideration of the bill to get it on the calendar in time for action well before adjournment. It is his intention to hold only two committee hearings, and to have those on two days in succession.

No Committee Delay.

Representative William J. Lafferty of Kansas City, Pendergast man, who is chairman of the House Committee on Perfecting Bills, to which the bill was sent last Thursday, said today he had no intention of delaying its progress, and probably would have it ready for a report from his committee before the end of the week.

Lafferty admitted that the big omnibus appropriation bill, which went to his committee later than the police bill, had been given preference in perfection, offering the explanation that it was a custom of many years for appropriation bills to have the right of way in the committee.

There was much comment among legislators yesterday on a report from Washington that United States Senator Clark had announced that he favored the passage of the bill, a report which Clark later denied in a statement in which he asserted that he had not authorized the publication and would make no public statement on the matter. He said that he had been asked for his views by some members of the Legislature and that, when asked, he had given his advice privately.

Special Order of Business.

Tuesday morning was set for final consideration of the bill in the House when that chamber adopted a motion to make it a special order of business.

The motion was adopted without

JEFFERSON CITY, May 10 (AP).—Suits to oust Jackson County Prosecutor W. W. Graves and Sheriff James L. Williams were filed in the Supreme Court late this afternoon by Attorney-General Roy McKittrick.

The two suits, similar in nature, charged in general terms that the Jackson County officials had neglected the duties of their offices.

MRS. EDWARD LASCELLES
DIES OF GUNSHOT WOUNDS

Woman, Related by Marriage to British Royal Family, Is Found Injured.

LONDON, May 10 (AP).—Mrs. Edward Lascelles, who was related by marriage to the British royal family, died today of gunshot wounds. She was found wounded last night on the grounds of her estate at Lutterworth, Leicestershire.

She was a sister-in-law of the Earl of Harewood, husband of Princess Mary, the only sister of King George VI.

Mrs. Lascelles, 50 years old, was a well known sportswoman and frequently carried a rifle.

COAL CONFEREES
WORKING ON PLAN TO REOPEN MINES

Trying to Comply With Roosevelt's Demand They Reach End of Deadlock by Tonight.

TWO CONCILIATORS
MEET WITH GROUP

460,000 Workers Idle in 26 States and Serious Shortage of Bituminous Fuel Threatened.

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP).—Soft coal operators and miners, seeking to comply with President Roosevelt's demand that they find by tonight a way to reopen closed mines in 26 states, studied today a definite formula designed to break their long deadlock.

As representatives of the two sides met with Federal conciliators after yesterday's conference with the President, there was no indication that the plan was far from a definite formula designed to break their long deadlock.

John R. Steelman, director of the United States Conciliation Service, who has participated in the contract negotiations for several weeks, remained optimistic that an agreement of some sort would be reached.

"I think you can reassure the country," he said, "that some settlement here is under way."

Conciliator's Stand.

"In accordance with the President's statement to the joint conference yesterday," Steelman said, "my position in the conference today is one of imperatively demanding a solution of this situation with the time limit as set."

Steelman interpreted Roosevelt's demand for a solution by tonight as a midnight deadline, and indicated the conferees would remain in session almost continuously.

He and James F. Dewey, Federal conciliator who has been on the scene almost from the start of negotiations, were in the room with the representatives of the operators and United Mine Workers (CIO) at a joint session lasting from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. Then the two sides split for individual meetings with the conciliators.

Just before entering the conference room one of the conferees shook his head sadly and said: "The President sure put the heat on us yesterday." He declined to permit use of his name.

Miners in the eight-state Appalachian region, producing 70 per cent of the country's industrially vital soft coal, racked their picks April 1 when an old contract expired. Miners in 18 outlying states quit work last week when negotiations for a new contract stalled.

460,000 Men Are Idle.

As a result 460,000 miners are idle and a serious shortage of coal appears to be likely.

The 16-man Policy Committee of the operators met last night to hear a report of what President Roosevelt told five operators and five miners at the conference in Washington. Its conclusions, if any, were not disclosed.

Last week when the President appealed publicly for a quick settlement, observers commented that possibly there was no legal authority for active intervention by the Federal Government.

President Harding ended a six-month shutdown in 1922, but it was recalled that he acted on emergency powers left over from World War days when the Government administered the coal industry.

So far as negotiations for a long-term contract were concerned, the President's intervention did not appear to have removed the main obstacle to an agreement, though he seemed to minimize its bulk.

John L. Lewis, head of the miners, has stated the issue by saying the union demands elimination of strike penalty clauses or establishment of a "union shop." Present wage-hour figures would be acceptable if those concessions were made, he has said.

ROOSEVELT KEPT AWAY FROM OFFICE BY SINUS COLD

Not Serious, White House Officials Say; He Dictates Radio Address for Tonight.

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP).—President Roosevelt stayed away from his office today to doctor a sinus cold, the third he has had in recent months.

White House officials said it was not serious and that the President had no fever.

Roosevelt devoted the morning to dictating a radio speech he plans to deliver on a New York program tonight at 8 p. m. St. Louis (time).

And did a few hours of work, dedicating the new Museum of Modern Art.

FATHER ON TRIAL
OF MERCY KILLING

Louis Greenfield, Who Chloroformed Imbecile Son, 16, Says 'Voice' Told Him to Do It.

'I LOVED HIM; IT WAS WILL OF GOD'

Women Weep as New York Man Tells of Joy at Birth of Boy, Then Realization of Abnormality.

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP).—Louis Greenfield gave way to his anguish today and sobbed out his story of the 16-year-old imbecile son, Jerome, "because I loved him."

"It was the will of God," he cried from the witness stand at his trial on a charge of manslaughter.

Greenfield chloroformed the boy last Jan. 12.

The defense rested at noon soon after Greenfield, shaken by his recital of the tragic story, left the stand.

Women in the crowd wept as he spoke in a low voice of the joy the boy's birth had brought him and his wife. They had longed for a son, he said.

A tremor entered his voice as he told of their gradual realization that the child was not normal and described the unavailing fight through the years to find a cure for the boy.

Listened to "Voice."

Finally in despair, he said, he listened to "an unknown voice" which told him to end the boy's misery, to bring to a halt the agony he suffered when he had fits.

When he had finished, Samuel S. Leibowitz, his attorney, said: "You loved this boy, didn't you?"

Greenfield sobbed for a minute, then spoke: "I loved him more than anything in the world."

Leibowitz waited. A few women were sobbing audibly. The attorney stepped closer to the grieving father.

"Well, you killed him, didn't you?" he asked sharply. "Yes," replied Greenfield.

"Why?" "Because I loved him. It was the will of God."

Greenfield told the jury he went to a Broadway motion picture theater a few months before he killed his son, led there by the "unseen hand." The picture was about a feeble-minded boy who was led to crime by activities which he used him as his tool, Greenfield said.

Fearful for Future.

"I thought that some day something like that would happen to Jerry," he said. "After that the more I looked at the boy in the movie, I knew that when my wife and I died there would be no one to look out for him."

Dr. I. Newton Kugelmass told him the boy would become a menace to the community, he said, and the boy, fully developed physically, had no control over his instincts and was a constant danger to his mother, Mrs. Anna Greenfield.

Dr. Kugelmass said the boy had deteriorated as he grew older, having a mental age of 4 when he was 7 but only the mind of a 2-year-old when he was 16.

Mother Testifies.

Earlier yesterday, Mrs. Greenfield, 40, dressed in black, told how she and her husband had scrimped to provide special care for the imbecile boy.

She said that when he was 5, they had borrowed money to raise a $100 a month tuition required to send him to a training school in Atlantic City. He was so unhappy there, she added, they brought him home after three months.

"I told my husband I would kill myself if he had to stay there," the mother said.

Two neighbors and a child health specialist also testified for the defense. The testimony indicated that the boy, almost six feet tall at the age of 15, had to be fed and dressed like a baby.

Prosecutor George Tilzer did not cross-examine any defense witness.

Mrs. Greenfield's voice trembled when Leibowitz asked her: "Did you love this boy?"

"Yes... I did," she answered. "And did your husband love him?" "Even more than I," she said.

CHAMBERLAIN ATTEMPTS

WITH RUSSIA ON ALLIANCE

Prime Minister Makes Clear England and France Would Carry Out Obligations Before Calling on Moscow.

AGREEMENT WOULD BE LIKE CZECH PACT

He Is Asked in Commons if Halifax Will Visit Soviet for 'Straight' Talk—Response Is 'We Had Better Await Reply' (to Note).

LONDON, May 10 (AP).—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today that Britain sought Soviet Russia's promise of military aid in Eastern Europe only on the condition Britain and France themselves would first send armies into the field.

Breaking his silence on the Government's security alliance proposals to remove what he said appeared to be a misunderstanding of them in Soviet Russia, Chamberlain said the proposals "made it plain it was not a part of their (the British) intention that the Soviet Government should commit themselves to intervene irrespective of whether Great Britain and France had already, in discharge of their obligations, done so."

Asked whether, in view of the delay in the negotiations, Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax would "proceed to Moscow and have straight forward discussions" with the new Soviet Foreign Minister, Vyacheslav Molotov, the Prime Minister replied:

"We had better await the reply of the Soviet Government."

Similar to Czech Pact.

Chamberlain sought to allay any Soviet suspicion that Russia might be left alone in intervening in behalf of smaller states in some circumstances. He said Russia could make its intervention contingent on the aid of Britain.

Russia's position in regard to Poland or Rumania, to whom Britain and France already have given separate guarantees, thus would be the same as in the Soviet-French pact with Czechoslovakia, where Russia was obligated to aid only if France did so.

Answering a question, Chamberlain said the mutual assistance pact between Britain and Poland did not exclude the possibility of an alliance between Britain and Russia.

The Prime Minister moved a resolution designed to eliminate any tape and enable the Russians to rush through Parliament bills conscripting youths of 20 and authorizing the Government to call up reserves secretly.

"Our proceedings are being closely watched in other countries and anything that might appear dictatorial might have a very discouraging effect on our friends in Europe," he explained.

Question Is Evaded.

In obvious reference to Russia's exclusion from the Munich conference on Czechoslovakia last September, Sir Archibald Sinclair, Liberal leader, asked Chamberlain if there were "any assurance that if peaceful negotiations were entered into Russia would be a party to them."

"What the negotiations are contemplating is an act of aggression," Chamberlain replied.

The Prime Minister assured Commons that the Government regarded the Soviet talks as "of greatest importance and urgency," and added: "We hope they will soon result in a satisfactory conclusion."

He said he could not elaborate further on his statement when he was asked whether terms of the agreement, if one were reached, would provide for Russian assistance if Britain itself were attacked by an aggressor.

Status of Negotiations.

Beginning a Cabinet-approved statement on the status of lengthy British-Russian negotiations, Chamberlain said:

"The Government recently adopted

GULFPORT, Miss., May 10 (AP).—Rudolf S. Hecht, New Orleans financier and former president of the American Bankers' Association, was charged with manslaughter today in the automobile death of 3-year-old Louis Joachim.

District Attorney R. C. Cowan said Hecht, board chairman of the Hibernia National Bank of New Orleans, was released under $5000 bond.

The child was struck on the Biloxi Beach drive this morning. Dragged about 25 feet by the automobile, which Cowan said did not stop, the boy suffered a fracture of the skull and died en route to a hospital.

Cowan said what appeared to be blood spots were found on the front of Hecht's car and the front license plate was bent when the banker was found about two hours later at Pass Christian.

Cowan quoted Hecht as denying any knowledge of the accident, saying, "I simply cannot see how it could have happened."

Chairman Has to Appeal to Conservative Delegates Before Vice-countess Can End Speech.

LONDON, May 10 (AP).—Viscountess Astor, American-born member of Parliament who often is heckled in Parliament, was howled down today at a women's Conservative conference.

Lady Astor spoke against a resolution which deplored the abolition of flogging, one of several proposed penal reforms. She was interrupted constantly and the chairman had to appeal to delegates before she could finish her speech.

A few minutes later the conference approved the resolution. The women expressed a belief that the proposed abolition of flogging, which is ordered by British courts in case of extremely brutal attacks, would increase crime.

GERMANY TURNS STOCKHOLM REPLY ONTO ROOSEVELT

Neutrality Stand of Four Nations Termed Answer to Him, Not Rejection of Hitler's Offer.

PRESS ATTACKS ON POLAND RESUMED

Official News Agency Says Refugees Are Pouring Into Reich From Polish Upper Silesia.

BERLIN, May 10 (AP).—The German Foreign Office took the view today that the Stockholm meeting of Foreign Ministers of Denmark, Sweden, Norway and Finland which reaffirmed their neutrality was a blow at President Roosevelt.

A communique after the Stockholm meeting yesterday said the four nations would steer clear "of any political combination whatever of the Powers" and that they would make separate replies to Adolf Hitler's offer of non-aggression pacts.

The decisive thing about that meeting is that all four countries stand for absolute neutrality, a Government spokesman said. "If this or that nation for reasons of its own does not feel the necessity of signing a non-aggression pact, we certainly do not consider that as a rejection of our Fuehrer's offer but as an answer to Roosevelt's fears that the 31 states enumerated by him consider their integrity endangered."

In his peace appeal April 14 to Hitler and Premier Mussolini, President Roosevelt asked for guarantees of the security of 31 nations.

Hitler later offered non-aggression pacts to Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Estonia and Latvia. Estonia and Latvia indicated they would accept. After the Stockholm meeting they were indicated to Denmark, adjacent to Germany, at least would negotiate with the Reich.

Polish Attacks Charged. Charges of destruction of German property by Polish mobs and Polish boycotting of German goods were published today in the revival of the German newspaper campaign against Poland.

DNB, official German news agency, reported from Gletwitz, German city on the Polish border, that streams of refugees were coming in from Poland.

"Destruction of German property and attacks on Germans in this region of Poland have become daily and constant occurrences," DNB asserted.

The newspaper Weichsel Zeitung of Marienwerder described life in a camp established near Rummelsberg for refugees from Poland. It quoted refugees as saying that after Chancellor Hitler's Reichstag address of April 28 (in which he denounced the German-Polish non-aggression pact) they were driven to the border, leaving behind most of their possessions.

Nazi Addresses Refugees. The newspaper said the refugees were addressed by Victor Lutze, chief of the Nazi Storm Troopers, who advised them, "Don't lose faith in the Fuehrer."

He recalled he had given the same advice at camps of Austrian refugees who fled to Germany for asylum before Germany annexed Austria.

Chancellor Hitler was at his mountain home near Berchtesgaden ready to hear Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop's report on week-end negotiations with Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano by which the axis is being converted into a military alliance.

In Berlin, the foreign office was taking a distinctly sympathetic attitude toward the interest displayed by the Vatican, which directed papal nuncios to intercede for peaceful negotiations in various capitals.

Nazi officials admitted that friendship negotiations were going on between Berlin and Moscow, which long have waged press campaigns against each other. Informed observers regarded them as motivated possibly by a Nazi desire to isolate Poland—at odds with Germany over the Free City of Danzig, and related to Great Britain through pledges of military help—or to build a coalition with Russia, Turkey, Poland, Greece and Rumania.

BRITAIN ATTEMPTS TO CLEAR UP SOVIET MISUNDERSTANDING

ed a definite obligation in respect of certain European states (Poland and Rumania) and they did so without inviting the Soviet Government to participate in them in view of certain difficulties to which any such suggestion would inevitably give rise.

He referred to the Polish and Rumanian objections to having Soviet troops on their soil in the event of war.

Chamberlain said that since the negotiations still were in progress he could not give full details.

However, he said, "I think it right to place the House in possession of the general line on which the conversations have been proceeding."

One-Sided, Moscow Said. A communique issued in Moscow last night by Tass, the Soviet official news agency, indicated that Russia held the view that the British proposals had been one-sided.

The Prime Minister said that Britain proposed, following its guarantees to Poland and Rumania, that Russia "should make, on their behalf, a declaration of similar effect in the sense that in the event of Great Britain and France being involved in hostilities in the discharge of their own obligations, the Soviet Government would express their readiness also to lend assistance."

"Lord Halifax saw the Soviet Ambassador yesterday who explained to him (Halifax) that the Soviet Government were still not clear whether, under the proposal of His Majesty's Government, circumstances might arise in which the Soviet Government would be committed to intervention unsupported by His Majesty's Government or France."

"Halifax assured the Ambassador that this was definitely not the intention of the proposals made by His Majesty's Government."

Cites Stalin's Words. "The British Ambassador in Moscow had an interview two days ago with Molotov at which the latter promised that the Soviet Government would give careful consideration to our proposals and we are now awaiting their reply."

The Prime Minister said that a declaration such as Britain proposed, "if the Soviet Government feel able to make it, seems to His Majesty's Government to be in accord with the recent pronouncement of Mr. Stalin that it is the policy of the Soviet Government to support countries which might be victims of aggression and which were prepared to defend their own independence."

He added: "The Soviet Government suggested a scheme at once more comprehensive and more rigid, which whatever other advantages it might present, must, in the view of His Majesty's Government, inevitably give rise to the very difficulties which our own proposals had been designed to avoid."

The Prime Minister said that after Britain received the Soviet counter-proposals, Britain "pointed out to the Soviet Government the existence of these difficulties and at the same time made certain modifications in their original proposals."

Viscount Astor's Letter. A statement by Viscount Astor that "a conference with Nazi pistols pointed at one's head can lead to no good end" appeared today in the London Times.

The Viscount and his Virginia-born wife in the past have been accused by anti-Fascists and have headed a behind-the-scenes political clique—the so-called Cliveden Set—which at one time favored appeasement of Fuehrer Hitler.

The Astor letter said, in part: "Today any attempt to make

FRANCE UNRESPONSIVE TO POPE'S SUGGESTION

Paris Feeling Is Mussolini Must Have Approved Vatican's Peace Effort.

PARIS, May 10 (AP).—France reacted coolly today to soundings by Vatican envoys which diplomats believed looked toward a settlement of the Danzig problem and other issues disturbing the peace of Europe.

A suggestion in the Paris press that Premier Mussolini of Italy had at least approved the initiative taken by Pope Pius XII caused an unfavorable impression here.

Informed circles contended that the Pontiff could not have made his soundings without Mussolini's approval because of the 1929 Lateran accord between Italy and the Vatican by which the latter undertook not to intervene in political issues except under special circumstances.

At the Foreign Office it was said that France could take no official stand because the Pope had not yet made any formal, definite suggestions.

These sources said the Pope had merely notified the governments most concerned in the tense European situation that he was ready as always to use the moral force of the Catholic Church in a practical peace move.

Papal nuncios or delegates in Berlin, Warsaw, Paris and London are known to have talked in recent days with heads of state or foreign ministers.

The French position is that settlement of the Danzig issue must be left up to its ally, Poland, to whom both Britain and France have given pledges of support if it fights in defense of its independence.

concessions to Hitler, unless accompanied by all around (including German) disarmament, would be bitterly resented by a vast majority.

"Anyone reading German papers or listening to German broadcasts can see that a policy of unilateral appeasement or a semblance of vaccination is seized upon by (German-Propaganda Minister) Goebbels' propaganda machinery to convince doubting Germans that we do not mean business and that we will yield to a squeeze and to make other countries doubt the value of our guarantees."

Reports that the Vatican was seeking peace declarations to smooth Europe's trouble spots won the interest of British commentators as well as sympathetic treatment from the German and Italian press.

It was disclosed that Mr. William Godfrey, apostolic delegate in London, had conferred with Halifax last week end.

In the Vatican reports, the London Daily Mail saw an indication that "the world peace front is gathering strength."

The first Parliamentary by-election since the Government introduced its conscription enabling act was held today in the Hallam division of the city of Sheffield in Yorkshire.

SOVIET DIPLOMAT ON WARSAW VISIT TALKS WITH BECK

Conversations Are Believed to Center in Possible Russian Military Aid to Poland.

WARSAW, May 10 (AP).—Vladimir P. Potemkin, Soviet Russia's first assistant commissar of Foreign Affairs, conferred today with Foreign Minister Jozef Beck on vital Polish-Russian relations in the face of Germany's demand for Danzig.

Talks between the two officials, aiming to improve Polish-Russian relations, were expected to center on possible Soviet military assistance to Poland.

Potemkin, on his way home from Turkey, Bulgaria and Rumania, arrived here late yesterday. He was received at the Foreign Office today by Miroslav Arcelewski, Foreign Affairs Undersecretary, with whom he conferred before the conference with Beck.

Conferences between Beck and Monsignor Filippo Cortesi, papal nuncio to Poland, were not yet concluded, it was said. Cortesi talked with Beck yesterday, presumably to learn the Polish reaction to Pope Pius peace negotiations.

Observers considered Poland's position delicate as regards any possibility of mediation between Germany and Poland by the Vatican. It was pointed out that Poland is strongly Catholic but is averse to anything other than direct negotiations to settle foreign problems.

Originally Potemkin was to have taken the morning train for Moscow after a night's rest at the Russian embassy. After his arrival last night, however, he decided to delay departure until late today.

The change of schedule was followed by reports that a series of official conferences had been arranged under special circumstances, was lacking. Commenting on the recent Soviet decision to fill the vacant post of Ambassador to Poland, the newspaper Kurjer Czerwony, close to the Foreign Office, had said that Russia was "ready and willing to improve its relations with Poland."

There were unconfirmed reports that Potemkin would try to learn how firm Poland was in its attitude toward Germany in the dispute over Pomorze, the Polish corridor, and the Free City of Danzig and also what sort of assistance the Poles might require.

JURY HEARS MAN WHO RODE WITH SCHNEIDER DAY HE DIED

Former Pollocom Called in Inquiry Into Drowning of Passenger Aid.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 10 (AP).—The Federal grand jury continued its investigation today of the movements of Edward L. Schneider, drowned business aid of Boss Thomas J. Pendergast, by calling John A. Schuesler, former policeman.

Schuesler said he rode about four blocks in Schneider's automobile the morning of May 1, the day Schneider disappeared, but declined to tell reporters anything about the conversation.

A second new witness today was Thornton Cooke, president of the Columbia National Bank, but the nature of questions asked him was not revealed. Also called by the jury was Carl Braun, office manager of Pendergast's Ready Mixed Concrete Co. Schneider was secretary of the concrete firm.

Meanwhile United States Attorney Maurice M. Milligan arranged to confer with Mrs. Schneider, who has been under a physician's care since the death of her husband. Federal agents still seek the identity of a woman who dined with Schneider at the Union Station April 29, the day Pendergast was indicted a second time and two days before Schneider drowned.

PHILIPPINE TRADE QUOTAS SOUGHT BY SENATOR TYDINGS

Bill Introduced as Result of Agreement Between Him and Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP).—Senator Tydings (Dem.), Maryland, introduced today a new Philippine bill agreed to in conference with President Roosevelt yesterday.

The measure would establish quotas under which Philippine coconut oil, cigars, scrap tobacco, pearl buttons and embroidery would be admitted to the United States between 1940 and the granting of independence in 1946.

The bill does not provide any change in the original plan for granting complete independence in 1946.

GORMAN QUILTS AS A. F. L. HEAD OF UNITED TEXTILE WORKERS

Opposed by William Green; New President of Union Is C. M. Fox of Georgia.

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP).—Counsel M. Fox, 36-year-old Georgia textile worker, was elected president today of the A. F. of L. branch of the United Textile Workers, succeeding Francis J. Gorman, who resigned earlier in the day. Just before the election, Gorman refused a nomination from the floor.

Gorman's continuance in office had been opposed by high A. F. of L. officers, including President William Green, although Gorman had led about 150 locals out of the CIO into A. F. of L. ranks.

CURED INSANE PATIENTS CAMPAIGN TO OBTAIN JOBS

Begin National Drive in Chicago Against Stigma on This Class.

CHICAGO, May 10 (AP).—A national re-employment drive was launched here today by persons who have been restored to sanity by modern medical methods. The purpose of their campaign, according to members of the Illinois organization composed of former insane patients, is to secure jobs for patients who have recovered from insanity and to educate the public to the point where employers will have no fear in hiring such persons.

Since the introduction of shock treatments with insulin, metrazol and other drugs, and fever cabinets, thousands of persons have been restored to normal mental and physical activity and the only barrier to their re-employment was the stigma of having once been patients in a mental hospital, they declared.

U. S. DESTROYERS RESCUE 66 FROM SINKING BRITISH SHIP

Take Passengers and Crew From the Lindenberg in Sulu Sea in Philippines.

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP).—Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, Asiatic fleet commander, reported to the Navy today the rescue of 66 passengers and crew members of the British steamer Lindenberg which sank in the Sulu Sea, Philippine Islands. The 66 were taken to Iloilo by the destroyer Pope. All escaped injury.

The Lindenberg sank in water 3000 feet deep at 10 a. m. today (8 o'clock St. Louis time, last night), after being freed from a reef.

The steamer, operated by the Bank Line of London, struck a reef on the south side of Arana Island last night, and a large hole was opened in the bow. Shortly after midnight the vessel was refloated and proceeded on its voyage. It was able to go only five miles, however, before it sank.

The Navy received a wireless call for assistance, and destroyers Peary and Pope were dispatched to the scene.

MRS. N. H. W. BELL DIVORCED

Tells Chicago Court She Does Not Know Whereabouts of Husband.

CHICAGO, May 10.—Mrs. Nicholas W. H. Bell obtained an uncontested divorce yesterday, after stating that she did not know the whereabouts of her husband, an optometrist. She said Bell was the grandson of Nicholas M. Bell, St. Louis Democratic politician, who died in 1931, and of the late Mrs. Maggie Pepper Bell, one of the heirs to the Pepper tobacco fortune.

Mrs. Bell, 23 years old, alleged cruelty. She was married to Bell four years ago, and has a 3-year-old son.

DENMARK LIKELY TO ACCEPT HITLER OFFER OF PLEDGE

Sweden, Norway and Finland to Make Separate Replies on Nazi Non-Aggression Proposal.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 10 (AP).—Sweden, Norway, Finland and Denmark will make separate replies to Chancellor Hitler's offer of non-aggression pacts, Denmark, at least, may accept the offer.

Foreign ministers of the four countries discussed what to do and, in a communique yesterday, said their present policy of neutrality "excludes them from the proffered pact of any political combination whatever of the Powers."

Official circles emphasized, however, that each country was free to answer Hitler as it wished and one informant said Denmark, which borders on Germany, might enter negotiations for the proffered pact. The communique said the countries "jointly welcome expressions from any other country of a desire to respect" their "integrity and independence."

Danish Cabinet Summoned to Hear Report on Proposal.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, May 10 (AP).—The Danish Cabinet was summoned today to hear Foreign Minister Dr. Peter Munch report on Chancellor Hitler's proposals for a series of Northern European non-aggression pacts and the Stockholm conference that discussed them yesterday.

Diplomatic circles believed Denmark might be the only one of four nations represented at Stockholm on the proposals yesterday to accept the Nazi suggestions.

PEDESTRIAN HIT BY AUTO, LIES ALL NIGHT BESIDE ROAD

Resident of Clark, Mo., With Hip and Elbow Fractured, Says Driver Did Not Stop.

Daniel Cook of Clark, Mo., hitchhiking to St. Louis, lay seriously injured beside United States Highway 66 near Eureka all last night when he was struck by an automobile, the driver of which did not stop.

Another motorist noticed his plight at 9:30 o'clock this morning and he was taken to County Hospital, where he was found to have suffered fractures of the left hip and elbow.

Cook told State highway patrolmen he was struck about 8 o'clock last night and thrown to the shoulder of the road. He eventually managed to draw himself up to a sitting position, but was unable to attract the attention of passing motorists. He is 48 years old.

IMPERIAL THRONE OF CHINA MISSING IN ART SHIPMENT

Insured for $2,000,000, It Was to Have Been Exhibited in New York.

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP).—The former imperial throne of China, insured for $2,000,000, was reported missing today by a representative of Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., who planned to exhibit it along with a valuable pagoda shrine at a Park avenue gallery.

Eleanor Lambert said the throne and pagoda, smuggled out of China in July, 1937, during the Japanese advance on Peking, were shipped here from Amsterdam on the Holland-America liner Zaandam, which arrived Monday.

Miss Lambert said a representative of the gallery discovered the loss when he went to the customs warehouse to claim the art treasures, which she valued at $3,000,000 combined. She said the loss was reported to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Relics of the former Imperial dynasty, the shrine and throne, made of precious metals and pearls, were to be exhibited for the benefit of Mrs. Chiang Kai-shek's war orphans fund.

HAMILTON-BROWN FINANCING APPROVED BY U. S. COURT

$600,000 in Trustee's Certificates to Be Issued to Get Capital to Open Plants.

A plan for issuance of $600,000 in trustee's certificates for capital with which to open the five plants of the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co. was approved today by United States District Judge George H. Moore. Of the amount, $225,000 will be used for immediate purposes and $375,000 is to be spent later under direction of the court.

A petition by the United Shoe Workers of America, CIO affiliate, for the court to instruct the trustee to comply with an order of the National Labor Relations Board last November directing the company to reinstate 137 discharged employees of its Union (Mo.) plant and pay about $150,000 in back wages was taken under advisement by Judge Moore.

The court will hear tomorrow a request by the Labor Board for authority to proceed with its hearing of complaints by workers in the concern's Poplar Bluff factory. The hearing, at Poplar Bluff, was interrupted April 17 by the Federal Court reorganization proceeding.

WPA EMPLOYED TO BOOST REALTY, WITNESS SAYS

Asserts Workers Built Lakes in Tennessee to Aid Politically Prominent Landowners.

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP).—A House investigating committee heard from Harry S. Barger, a committee investigator, today that the WPA in Tennessee had helped build several lakes to increase the value of real estate owned by politically prominent persons.

Barger testified at a public hearing that Harry S. Berry, State WPA Administrator, had told him the work relief organization had spent $86,315.43 on a lake at Pressman's Home. This home is operated by the printing pressman's union.

The former Senator George L. Berry heads the witness added. The investigator quoted the State administrator as saying the former Senator told him he made a $36,516 contribution toward the project.

Barger read a statement from Eugene R. Kuhne of the State Fish and Game Commission, saying lakes had been built to enhance the value of property owned by several politically prominent persons. The statement mentioned Laurel Lake and Clear Creek, among others.

Barger added that army engineers had inspected Pressman's Lake and had reported that it was defective. They said, he added, that a very heavy rain might break the dam forming it and endanger the lives of many people.

The statement which Barger attributed to Kuhne included these projects: "Pressman's Home, former Senator George L. Berry. "Laurel Lake, Blount County, Col. Claude Reeder. "Clear Creek Lake, Carroll County, Marshall Priest, former State Comptroller. "Lake Tullahoma, John Barton, State Treasurer. "Marrow Bone Lake, C. M. Wrenne Realty Co., Nashville, Tenn. "Whitewater Lake, unknown. "Twin Lakes, Portland, Sumner County Clerk and Master and County Court Clerk."

The statement attributed to Kuhne said it was not made to prove any charge against the WPA or against persons who had been responsible for development of the lakes program, but simply as a statement of fact.

HOUSE ATTACK ON CONSERVATION BOARD BEATEN

Resolution for Referendum on Repeal of Enabling Amendment Shelved in Less Than Minute.

BI-PARTISAN BODY WEATHERING STORM

Opposition Dwindles After Public Demonstrates Approval in Letters to Legislators.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 10.—

The bi-partisan State Conservation Commission, created in 1936 by an overwhelming vote of the people, is safe from the onslaught of the politicians who have been attempting to do away with the commission and restore the old Fish and Game

Department, with its wealth of jobs for political patronage.

It took the House less than a minute yesterday to kill a resolution proposing to submit to the voters

a constitutional amendment which would repeal the amendment

under which the commission was established.

Immediately after the resolution was called up for perfection by its author, Representative Fred Spearman, Representative T. Victor

Jeffries of Laclede County that the resolution be indefinitely postponed. The motion was adopted by the House without debate, thereby preventing further consideration of the resolution this session.

Opposition Dwindles.

Early this session opponents of the commission were quite active in their efforts to eliminate the commission outright or to cripple its effectiveness by other means, but since then the opposition has been reduced to a flood of letters to the Legislature, that it is behind the commission and approves its broad powers for regulating hunting and fishing and serving wild life resources of the

Senator William Quinn of Mayville introduced a bill to repeal the State fish and game laws, including a general penalty statute which has been utilized by the commission for enforcement of its regulations. The Supreme Court upheld the right of the commission to make regulations which superseded the game laws, but the commission has been depending on this section for the punishment of persons violating its regulations.

Senator Quinn called his bill up for perfection about two months ago, and when it became apparent that the measure was virtually certain to be defeated, he placed it on the informal calendar and has not attempted to call it up for consideration since then. The bill is now considered to have no chance of passage.

Veto as Backstop.

Any legislative act crippling the commission would probably be vetoed by Gov. Stark, who is one of the commission's supporters. The Governor has no power, however, to veto a resolution proposing a constitutional amendment, such as the Spearman resolution introduced by the House.

Senator Quinn also introduced a bill to prohibit hunting on any land without the written consent of the owner. The bill was passed by the Senate and is pending in the House.

It is regarded as detrimental to the activities of the commission in that it would discourage hunting and result in a loss of license fees, on which the commission is dependent for its support.

FAIRMONT CITY, (ILL.) SLAB

ZINC PLANT TO BE CLOSED

Losing Money, Company President

Says: Departments Employing 125 to Continue.

The slab zinc department of the American Zinc, Lead & Smelting

Co. at Fairmont City, Ill., will be closed before June 30 because of the difficulty of competing with wild zinc prices, Howard I. Young, president of the company, informed stockholders in a letter yesterday.

The company's Fairmont City plant employs 450 men, of whom 325 work in the slab department.

The roasting department and the acid plant will continue operations.

In his letter Young, citing a net loss by the company of $21,531 for the year ending March 31, attributed difficulties in part to the recent 20 per cent reduction in duty on slab zinc and zinc concentrates.

DEPARTMENT STORE SALES UP

St. Louis Shows 1.2 Pct. Rise for Four Months Above 1938 Period.

St. Louis department store sales during the first four months of the year showed an increase of 1.2 per cent over the corresponding period in 1938. April sales declined 3 per cent as compared with March.

In the Eighth Federal Reserve

District, including Missouri, sales of 34 department stores in 17

cities were 2 per cent higher Jan. 1 to April 30 as compared with the first four months last year. The increase for the country at large was 1 per cent.

ILLINOIS HOUSE GROUP VOTES COAL RESEARCH

Approves $300,000 Appropriation to Produce Smokeless Fuel.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 10.—An appropriation of $300,000 for performance of a commercial process for producing smokeless fuel from low-grade Illinois soft coal was approved today by the House Appropriations Committee of the Legislature. Earmarked in the fund is $95,000 for a laboratory building at

Urbana, Ill., where the State Geological Survey would conduct the study.

A two-year program is proposed.

State Representative Calvin D.

Johnson (Rep.) of Belleville, sponsor of the bill, told the committee

today that a cost of $3 cents a ton for processing would make possible competition with other fuels. It has been shown that processing can be done at that figure, but only on a mass production basis, he said.

Men have been interested in the passage of this measure, in the hope that it would make possible

the elimination of unprocessed soft coal there, in the effort to abate excessive smoke. Mayor Dickman appeared before the House committee April 25 to advocate approval.

The Mayor told the committee that St. Louis wanted to use Southern Illinois coal, but was anxious to get rid of the smoke it has caused. Smoke Commissioner Raymond R. Tucker of St. Louis testified that the ultimate solution of the smoke problem was to be found in a smokeless fuel which domestic consumers could afford.

In 1923 coal production in Illinois, by 99,742 miners, was 80,000-

000 tons, Johnson related. But by 1927 it had fallen to 51,000,000 tons, with 47,500 miners. The Illinois coal beds contained 200,000,000,000 tons, only 6 per cent of which has been mined, he asserted. He said

Chicago used 28,000,000 tons of coal annually, but only 30 per cent of this came from Illinois.

COLUMBUS, O., May 10 (AP).—Nick Babich, a Russian-born WPA worker from Warren, O., was executed in the electric chair last night in atonement for the killing of his neighbor.
Guards found a note in his pocket after death. "I send my best regards to all Russian leaders and the same for President Roosevelt," it said. "Goodbye old world, and am wishing you peace from Pole to Pole."

EDUCATION BOARD RESTUDIES ISSUE OF GERLING POWER

Considers Eagleton Proposal to Modify Authority Given Superintendent in Pending Bill.

Abandonment of the pending bill for a comprehensive administrative reorganization of the Board of Education, concentrating executive authority in the superintendent, in favor of a substitute of less thorough character, is under consideration by the board.

The board next Friday will renew consideration of the substitute, proposed last night by Vice-President Mark D. Eagleton. In the meantime the substitute has been referred to Superintendent of Instruction Henry J. Gerling and Attorney Emmet T. Carter for examination and report.

The bill now pending in the Legislature, introduced at the board's request and advocated by Dr. George D. Strayer of Columbia University, director of the recently completed survey of the school system, would make the various administrative officers appointees of the superintendent and give him complete control of their departments. Eagleton's substitute would give the superintendent general supervision over two departments, building and finance, but the heads of those departments would continue to be elected by the board.

Eagleton Moves Substitute. Arguing that the substitute would achieve the same general purpose, with less confusion, Eagleton moved for its adoption. John A. Fleischli seconded the motion. Arthur A. Blumeyer said he had voted reluctantly for the pending measure because Dr. Strayer held it was necessary, but that many defects had been found in it. He expressed the opinion that Eagleton's proposal was an improvement but pleaded for time to consider it. Attention was called to the possibility the Legislature may adjourn by May 27.

Members discussed several points of the substitute and raised various objections, led chiefly by Blumeyer and Edward A. Ferrenbach. A change suggested by Fleischli, to let the Building Commissioner rather than the Superintendent remove subordinates of the building department, was accepted by Eagleton, but there was no action on other alterations submitted.

A substitute motion, by Dr. Francis C. Sullivan, seconded by Blumeyer, to refer the new bill to the Superintendent and attorney, was adopted, with Eagleton and Richard Murphy apparently the only members voting against it. An effort by Murphy to get a vote on Eagleton's original motion was ruled out by the attorney.

Question of Law and Economy. Blumeyer declared Dr. Strayer had maintained that $600,000 in annual savings could be brought about under the original bill, but Blumeyer questioned whether change in the law was necessary to effect the economies. President John J. Sheehan chimed in, saying for having made a mistake in approving the original bill, James J. Fitzgerald asserted the original measure had not progressed because the board was divided over it and insisted there was no sense in proposing something else until the board was in agreement. Dr. Sullivan said Attorney Carter had made 22 objections to the original bill, but Carter told reporters he had only called attention to some points which he believed needed consideration by the board. It was learned by the Post-Dispatch that these points were of comparatively minor character and were made after the bill had been printed by the State Senate.

Eagleton told reporters he had been informed by Murphy, chairman of the Legislative Committee, that State Senator Michael Kinney was of the opinion the original measure might be passed because of public pressure being exerted in its behalf. However, Eagleton feared the substitute might not be approved by the board and that the board's attitude might keep either measure from passage by the Legislature.

$251,000 Contract Awarded. The board awarded contracts for $251,621 for erection of a new Clinton-Feabody School at 1224 Grattan street with PWA aid. They are divided as follows: General work, Fleischer-Seeger Construction Co., $183,000; heating and ventilating, Peters-Elchler Heating Co., $42,891; plumbing, Sam Burman & Co., $17,985; electric work, E. O. Dorsch Electric Co., $7745. The board had estimated cost at $300,000.

A proposal to renew the practice, abandoned several years ago, of having central playgrounds for children of the school playgrounds at the end of the playground season, was killed by the board. The system of local playgrounds pageants will continue. Contracts for about $173,000 for annual warehouse supply stock were approved. Mimeo-graphing of 250 sets of the recent survey report was ordered.

POLICEMAN DIES OF WOUNDS INFLECTED BY CHICAGO ROBBERS

Second Death Laid to Two Men Caught Last Week in Detroit.

CHICAGO, May 10 (AP).—Police-man Philip Kelly, 35 years old, died in the Ravenswood Hospital

shortly after midnight last night from bullet wounds suffered in a fight with two men who attempted to rob the Eastwood Inn on May 2. Alex Ferguson, 57, an undertaker, was shot to death by one of the robbers and Policeman Edwin McIntyre was wounded. The policemen were off duty when the two men, later captured at Detroit and identified as Orville Watson and Edward Riley entered the tavern. In the exchange of shots between the robbers and policemen, Watson was wounded. The robber and a young woman were seized in Detroit last Wednesday.

CHECK ON MOTORISTS TO CURB ACCIDENTS

Police to Watch Drivers With Suspended Licenses Who Continue to Drive Cars.

Mayor Bernard F. Dickmann's Traffic Commission, meeting yesterday to consider methods of reducing the city's accident rate, decided to take steps to prevent driving by about 500 St. Louis motorists whose drivers' licenses have been suspended, and toward a stricter supervision of about 3000 others who have records of frequent arrests on traffic charges. Chief of Police John H. Glasco said he would instruct patrolmen on beats to watch for motorists who continued to drive after their licenses had been suspended. It also was suggested that names of motorists under suspension could be broadcast or published, but no action was taken on the proposal. At the suggestion of Director of Streets and Sewers Frank P. McDevitt, a list of motorists who have been consistent traffic offend-

POLICE ON TRAIL OF SECOND POISON RING IN THE EAST

Suspect Admits Obtaining Lethal Doses for Both Groups Operating in Several States.

PHILADELPHIA, May 10 (AP).—Detectives following a trail of murders through several states were confronted yesterday with the possibility that a second murder gang may have operated in Philadelphia independently of a ring accused of killing many persons for insurance.

This possibility developed, an investigator said, with the disclosure that one of 24 persons held in connection with the insurance murders had admitted he obtained poison for the ring and for a second group.

The investigator said the second group was directed by five or six principals and, like the insurance ring, poisoned its victims. The insurance ring also has been accused of drownings and fake automobile accidents.

At the same time, Assistant District Attorney Vincent P. McDevitt, one of the State's chief investigators of the insurance murders, announced detectives had been questioning a key witness and promised startling new developments.

His announcement came soon after Police Superintendent Edward Hubbs ordered city chemists to examine bodies of two persons, a woman police think was killed for insurance, and her husband, who Hubbs said may have been murdered by the ring to prevent him from telling about his wife's death.

Hubbs directed the body of Mrs. Gaetano Peno be exhumed and brought to an autopsy room along with that of her husband, who died in a Philadelphia hospital Monday after having been brought here from Salem, N. J., where he had been semi-conscious for weeks. Chemists were told to look for traces of poison.

KANSAS CITY MAYOR HAS WAY TO RETAIN HIS CITY MANAGER

Learns Charter Provision Permits Appointment of Temporary Officers.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 10 (AP).—Mayor Bruce E. Smith has found a way to keep his former secretary, Eugene C. Zachman, in the City Manager's position while audits are made to determine how millions of dollars of the city's funds were spent.

Several civic organizations have urged prompt selection of a trained and experienced executive. Zachman was named Acting City Manager, succeeding H. F. McElroy, who resigned.

Fred Bellemere, City Counselor, said yesterday a charter provision permits appointment of temporary officers of the city government and Zachman's title could be City Manager, without the "acting."

The Mayor told Bellemere to put his findings in a resolution which could be presented to the City Council Friday.

Gov. Stark issued a proclamation at Jefferson City today authorizing an audit of all Jackson County public offices. The action was taken to remove any question of the legality of the audit.

FLORIDA SENATE COMMITTEE APPROVES TOWNSEND PLAN
Vote Set for Next Tuesday on $30-a-Month Pensions to Be Spent in 30 Days.
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 10 (AP)—The Senate Welfare Committee approved a Townsend old-age pension bill yesterday and the Senate agreed to vote on it next Tuesday.
The bill calls for payment of $30 a month to all persons more than 60 years old, providing recipients agree to spend the entire sum within 30 days. It would be financed by a 3 per cent transactions tax.

RALPH HIRSCH DIES; LONG AIDED JOBLESS

Gave 750,000 Baskets of Food Away in Course of Ten Years.

Ralph Hirsch, former clothing manufacturer who established an organization for the free distribution of food to the unemployed, died suddenly last night, soon after returning to his home from his relief office. He was 72 years old and lived at 1421 Silverton place, Richmond Heights.

In the 10 years that Mr. Hirsch operated the agency, first in a shack-like structure under the Municipal Bridge and later in a warehouse at 324 South Third street, he gave more than 750,000 bags and baskets of food to poor families. He was a familiar figure on Commission Row, where he frequently appeared as early as 4 a. m. to solicit unmarketable vegetables.

His wife, Mrs. Josephine Hirsch, said he complained of illness at about 6:30 o'clock. A few minutes after he had gone upstairs to retire Mrs. Hirsch found his body on the bathroom floor. His death apparently was caused by a heart ailment.

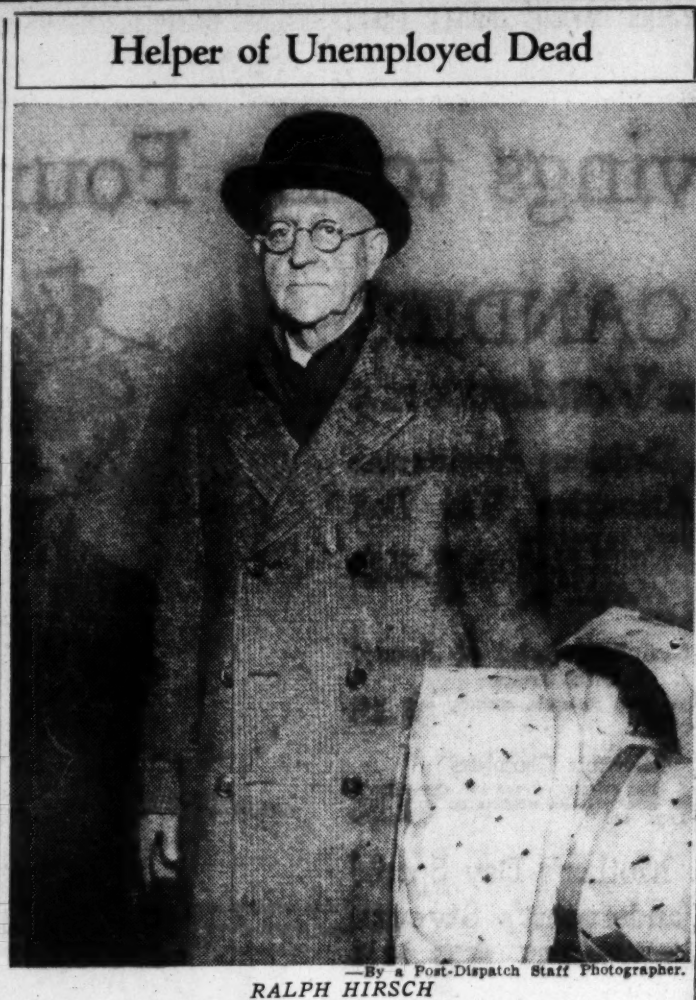

Mr. Hirsch's methods of distributing food were unorthodox. He did not follow the usual investigation procedure, but gave food to all applicants, depending on the Police Department for a later check-up of the recipients.

His first agency was called the Charities Income Distribution Corporation. Later he established Friendly Inn, a low priced hotel for workmen and transients at 915 South Fourth street, and used the profits from the hotel to buy additional food for the distribution center.

For seven years the distribution center was known as Welcome Inn, supported by a volunteer women's committee, which was headed by Mrs. Nat S. Brown, Democratic National Committeewoman from Missouri. About two years ago, Mrs. Brown's committee withdrew its support, announcing that solicitation for private charity had become increasingly difficult.

Miss Mae Bentley, Mr. Hirsch's secretary, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that the agency probably would cease operation as there was no one prepared to give time and effort necessary to continue it. She asserted that Mr. Hirsch, entitled to a salary of $160 a month, had drawn only $475 since August, 1937.

The agency, Miss Bentley said, collected about $109,000 in the 10 years for the purchase of food. The center gave out 823 free baskets Saturday and 700 last Wednesday. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at the Rindskopf undertaking establishment, 5216 Delmar boulevard.

Post-Dispatch said was true a committee should be appointed to "get at the bottom of the situation," and if not true, a committee should investigate the source of the information. Douglas W. Robert made the motion for appointment of the committee, which was seconded by Circuit Judge Ernest F. Oakley. The committee was appointed March 11. Before the month was ended an independent investigator chosen by the committee began checking the records and about the first of April the committee started hearings at the Civil Courts Building. It has not yet made its report.

of 88.8 per cent. In 1938: January, 10; February, three; March, one; April, four; in 1939: January, nine; February, nine; March, six; April, 10.

More Days of Court. Analysis also showed that these three Judges held court in jury trials an aggregate of 40 days. The center gave out 823 free baskets Saturday and 700 last Wednesday. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at the Rindskopf undertaking establishment, 5216 Delmar boulevard.

There were sharp increases in the number of days sat in court in jury trials by these three jurists, comparing the first four months of this year and last year. The record was: Joynt, 62 in 1938 and 47 in 1939, an increase of 31.9 per cent; Padberg, 48 in 1938 and 36 in 1939, an increase of 33.3 per cent; Rowe, 50 in 1938 and 37 in 1939, an increase of 35.1 per cent.

In the first four months of 1938 all civil jury courts were in session in jury trials an aggregate of 513 days, or an average of 51.3 days per Judge. In the same period this year, these divisions were in session 510 days, or an average of 56.6 days per Judge.

The analysis also covered cases of all types disposed of in Division No. 1, called the assignment division. Here the volume was comparatively large, as usually trials were not required, final disposition often occurring in preliminary stages of procedure.

Comparison for Quarter. In the first four months of 1939, with Robert J. Kirkwood sitting as Presiding Judge in No. 1, 2845 cases were disposed of, while in the corresponding period of 1938, with Frank C. O'Malley as Presiding Judge, 1951 cases were disposed of. The increase under Judge Kirkwood, as compared with Judge O'Malley, was 694, or 35.5 per cent. Included in the number given for the 1939 period were 1071 cases dismissed for failure to prosecute or failure to secure costs, while this classification in the 1938 period amounted to 249.

The comparative number of cases disposed of in this division, by months, follow: January, 406 in 1938 and 558 in 1939, an increase of 37.4 per cent; February, 476 in 1938 and 649 in 1939, an increase of 36.3 per cent; March, 504 in 1938 and 722 in 1939, an increase of 43.3 per cent; April, 565 in 1938 and 716 in 1939, an increase of 26.7 per cent.

Inquiry Into Analysis. Publication of the 10-year analysis of the Court's work began in the Post-Dispatch March 6, showing a large decline in the number of days the Judges actually worked in jury trials, as well as the sharp drop in the number of cases disposed of. At a meeting that night the Bar Association of St. Louis authorized appointment of a committee to investigate truth or falsity of the records. This action followed a denunciation of the first article by Judge O'Malley that night the Bar Association of St. Louis authorized appointment of a committee to investigate truth or falsity of the records. ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH COMMITTEE VOTES ITS APPROVAL OF ROOSEVELT PLAN

Senate Group Defeats Resolution to Reject His Reorganization Proposal No. 2.

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP).—The Senate Reorganization Committee approved today President Roosevelt's Government reorganization plan No. 2, which would re-group numerous Government agencies and would abolish the Bituminous Coal Commission, lodging its functions in the Interior Department.

The Senate Committee acted on a resolution by Chairman Byrnes of South Carolina to disapprove the plan. The committee reported adversely, with only Minority Leader McNary (Rep.), Oregon, voting to approve.

Byrnes expects to obtain Senate rejection of the resolution this week. Byrnes favors the reorganization proposal, and his strategy is to take a roundabout way to clinch their acceptance by Congress. He said he had polled the Senate and found it "virtually unanimous in favor of the plan."

Senate rejection of the resolution of disapproval would let the order become effective automatically July 9, unless Congress adjourned before that date. To block a reorganization plan, both Senate and House must reject it within 60 days after the submission.

In the House, Republicans decided to play a waiting game. Representative Gifford (Rep.), Massachusetts, said it looked as if the plan would "pass all right," and expressed belief no one on the minority side would offer a resolution of disapproval.

In the first place, he said, such a measure would be futile, and in the second, there are "more things about it that are satisfactory than there were about the first plan," which grouped numerous agencies into three new units handling construction welfare and lending activities.

Roosevelt estimated the changes would save $1,250,000 annually in administrative costs.

CITY LISTS UNUSED REALTY TOTALING $687,000 FOR SALE

339 Parcels of Property to Be Offered, Including Negro Hospital; Fire, Police Houses.

Unused real estate owned by the city, valued at $687,000, has been listed by Deputy Comptroller Charles L. Cunningham in preparation for offering it for sale, in compliance with a recent order by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. The city will not employ agents.

There are 339 parcels of property on the list. The values are those fixed by the Assessor's office, although, as city property, this realty is tax exempt. Included are 32 pieces, mostly occupied by old buildings, valued at $412,755; 30 pieces with buildings, taken in satisfaction of judgments for street opening and widening benefit taxes, $53,260; and 277 pieces of unimproved property taken for similar benefit taxes, $221,035.

Among the items in the first group is a one-acre park at Rose-dale avenue and Delmar boulevard, recently improved by the WPA, valued at $45,000. Abandoned buildings include: Negro hospital, Garrison avenue and Lawton boulevard, $130,050; Fire Department repair shop, 2000 Washington avenue, $64,500; fire engine house, 12 North Ninth street, $33,970; engine house, Eighth and Mullany streets, $13,630; police station, Ninth and Wyomind streets, $13,480; and police station, 7301 Pennsylvania avenue, $37,700.

INTERNATIONAL SHOE CO. FINDS NLBB RULING 'UNACCEPTABLE'

"Our Actions Will Be Determined After Full Consideration of the Report."

The National Labor Relations Board ruling directing the International Shoe Co. to withdraw its support from the Western Brotherhood of Shoe and Rubber Workers and to cease interference with organization of workers at the Hannibal (Mo.) plant, was described as "wholly unacceptable" in a resolution adopted yesterday by the company's executive board.

"A hurried reading of the Labor Board's findings in the Hannibal case," the report stated, "indicates that the report is not sustained by and is contrary to the overwhelming evidence shown by the record in the case. In these circumstances, our actions will be determined after full consideration has been given to the report. As we view it now, the findings are wholly unacceptable to the International Shoe Co."

WILL GIVING MOST OF $41,924 ESTATE TO CHURCH CONTESTED

Mrs. S. R. Nelson, Suing as Half Sister, Says Mrs. Abbie Arnold Was Unduly Influenced.

The will of Mrs. Abbie Arnold, leaving most of her $41,924 estate to Pilgrim Congregational Church, yesterday by Mrs. S. R. Nelson of Owatonna, Minn., who says she was Mrs. Arnold's half-sister. She named the church trustees and the Manufacturers' Bank & Trust Co., executor of the estate, as defendants. Mrs. Nelson charges that Mrs. Arnold was not capable of making a will when she executed her will in 1937, and that she was unduly

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH DIVORCED WPA MEN LIVE IN JAIL TO SAVE MONEY FOR ALIMONY

Judge Orders Them to Stay in Cells in Spare Time, Thus Cut Expenses.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., May 10 (AP).—Joseph H. Brady, Judge pro tem of the Wyandotte County District Court, has adopted a new method to help divorced WPA workers save money to pay alimony.

Judge Brady disclosed yesterday two WPA workers, who complained their wages are insufficient to enable them to contribute to support of their divorced wives, are making the county jail their "home" in their spare time.

Judge Brady sentenced the men to live at the jail on the days and nights they are not working and estimated the savings to each man was $3 a week, which he ordered them to pay their former wives.

Influenced by members of the church.

Mrs. Arnold, who was 92 years old when she died Nov. 9 last, left all but $3000 of her estate to the church, of which she was the oldest member. She left personal belongings, but no cash bequest, to Mrs. Nelson. Mrs. Arnold lived at 5033 Cabanne avenue.

MAURY MAVERICK ELECTED MAYOR OF SAN ANTONIO

Ex-Congressman, in Campaign, Ignored Garner Who Gave Him No Aid in Race Last Year.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 10 (AP).—Maury Maverick, wisecracking Congressman of last year, was elected Mayor of San Antonio yesterday.

The people who knew his grandfather as a cattleman who gave the homeless cows in Texas his name, put Maverick back in public life yesterday by a big vote.

His political opponent, C. K. Quinn, the incumbent, conceded defeat with this simple statement: "I was run over by a herd of stampeding Mavericks."

"I'll Be a Stuffed Shirt," said Maverick early today. "I got beat for Congress for not being one."

That was all he said to reporters when they told him he had won. Maverick did not mention the name of Vice-President Garner, who, Maverick's friends said, did not lend him a helping hand when

MAURY MAVERICK

Paul Kilday, young San Antonio lawyer, beat him last year in the race for Congress.

Yesterday's election put Maverick in the saddle as Mayor on June 1 and gave him a chance to lead the Bexar County (San Antonio) Democratic delegation to the 1940 State convention.

As leader of that delegation, Maverick would have virtually the final word on whom the Bexar County delegation shall support in 1940 for the Democratic nomination for President.

Defeat of Quinn for a fourth term put Maverick one up on Mayor Quinn.

Six years ago Quinn became Mayor. Then he ran against Maverick for Congress. Maverick won. When Maverick came up for re-election, Quinn supported Maverick's opponent, Kilday, who won.

Today's latest tabulation gave Maverick 18,375, Quinn 14,874 and Leroy Jeffers 11,503. Maverick's fusion ticket kept leads in all races.

Omaha Mayor Renamed, but Is Sixth in Field of Seven.

OMAHA, Neb., May 10 (AP).—Stage and screen censoring Dan B. Butler, Omaha's Mayor who loves a fight, won re-election yesterday with little to spare in a field of 14 candidates for the seven City Council posts. Butler ran sixth, about 2000 votes ahead of the seventh man.

Custom calls for the high man to take the Mayor's seat, but indications were Butler would be voted Mayor by the new Council, containing five of the six men he has worked with since he took the post three years ago. Public Improvements Commissioner Harry Trustin, high man, led Butler by more than 7000 votes.

Circuit Attorney's Office Explains It Is Not Felony, but Misdemeanor.

The Circuit Attorney's office refused yesterday to issue a warrant against Marshall Duckworth, 3134 Lafayette avenue, who was arrested Monday when a policeman saw him place a 50-cent bet in a hand-book at 4398 Olive street.

It was explained that the act charged was not a felony, but constituted a misdemeanor usually handled in city courts. Harry Stone, in charge of the hand-book, was booked on a charge of being custodian of a bet. Policemen said they could recall no other arrest for placing a racehorse bet in St. Louis.

VATICAN DENIES 'FANTASTIC' REPORTS ON PEACE EFFORTS

Pope Acts "Through Normal Diplomatic Contacts" Only, Comment on Rumored Conference.

ROME, May 10 (AP).—A Vatican news service which regularly makes available the views of the Vatican issued the following statement today:

"The most fantastic news is being spread concerning the steps which the Pope may have taken or may be taking for peace, going so far as to affirm that the Pope might have invited the heads of governments and Foreign Ministers of Italy, France, Germany, England and Poland to meet at the Vatican in a conference to be presided over by the Pope himself to solve peacefully the pending question between Germany and Poland and all the others which might imperil peace.

"The simple announcement of such news demonstrates of itself its absurdity. The truth is that the Pope always interests himself and today more than ever in the great cause of peace, but in the ordinary way, that is, through the normal diplomatic contacts.

"It is for this reason that in these days various nuncios have made contact with heads of governments and Ministers of Foreign Affairs to communicate to them the ardent wishes and the prayer of the Pope to the end that peace be not compromised and the questions which today exist through various peoples be solved through the peaceful means to which all, after all, declare themselves disposed." (The dispatches which are denied were not printed in the Post-Dispatch.)

HERE'S AN INTERESTING CIGARETTE COMPARISON...
See how it's made by Al
Conklin of Dartmouth

SMOKERS all over the country are learning what A. R. Conklin (right) is showing a group of Dartmouth men. It's a striking way to compare cigarettes by simply watching them burn! Al is testing the leading brands to find the one that burns slowest! Which brand won? C-A-M-E-L... by a wide margin! The reason? Costlier tobaccos, expertly blended in a cigarette that burns slowly, completely—smokes cooler, of course!

Recently, a group of scientists ran this interesting laboratory test on a bigger scale. 16 of the largest-selling cigarette brands were rated impartially. CAMELS BURNED SLOWER THAN ANY OTHER BRAND TESTED—25% SLOWER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME FOR THE OTHER BRANDS. (Camels were remarkably consistent.) IN THE SAME TEST, CAMELS HELD THEIR ASH FAR LONGER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME FOR ALL THE OTHER BRANDS.

Camel is the cigarette of costlier tobaccos...a cooler, milder, better-tasting smoke...every cigarette...every pack!

"Look how slowly the Camel burns compared to the other brands," Albert Conklin points out to the bunch. Everyone agrees that Camels win hands down. "No wonder Camels smoke so cool and mild," Al adds. "And that must have a lot to do with why Camels have such an appealing taste!"

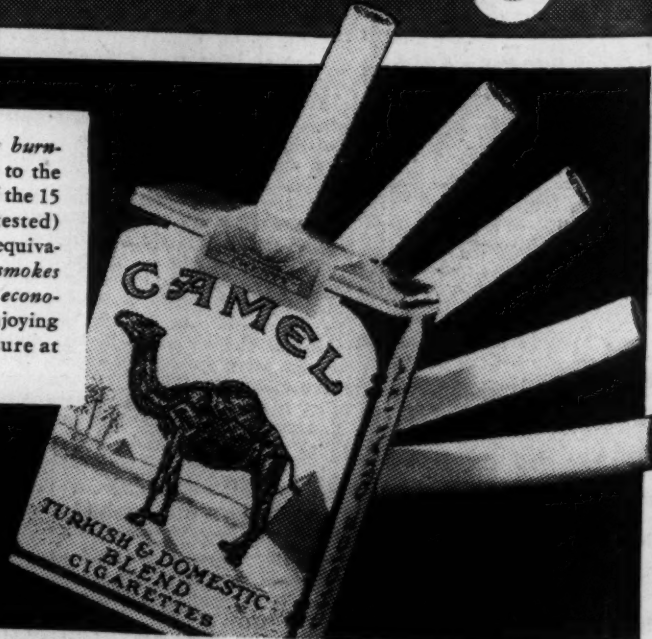

Smoking is Believing!

WHEN you've enjoyed the thrill of a mellow, ripe-tasting Camel, you'll know that NOTHING can take the place of costlier tobaccos! What a wonderful pleasure it is to get set with a cigarette that is really mild—a matchless blend, made to give you all the pleasure in smoking.

Camels have more tobacco by weight than the average of the 15 other brands tested. Besides, Camels burn slower than any of those other brands. And by burning 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands, Camels give you the equivalent of 5 extra smokes per pack!

Camels give you even more for your money when you count in Camel's finer, more expensive tobaccos. Buy shrewdly! Buy Camels...America's first choice for a luxury smoke every smoker can afford!

Camel's slower burning (compared to the average time of the 15 other brands tested) gives you the equivalent of 5 extra smokes per pack! You economize while enjoying smoking pleasure at its best!

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP).—Senator Carter Glass (Dem.), of Virginia, said today his refusal to become Secretary of the Treasury in the Roosevelt Cabinet in 1933 was the wisest thing I ever did.

Commenting on the newly issued biography, "Carter Glass," the 61-year-old Virginian said he had no regrets that he had not received the Democratic presidential nomination in 1920 or 1924. His name was prominently mentioned as a possible standard bearer in those years.

The biography was written by E. Smith, the Senator's secretary, and Norman Beasley, Glass's biographer. Glass said he was disappointed to detail his reasons for refusing the Treasury post, but he said he did so after seeing unsuccessfully to ascertain President Roosevelt's views on currency matters.

The book includes notes written by Glass in 1920 saying that President Wilson wanted a third term in order to continue his fight for American adherence to the League of Nations.

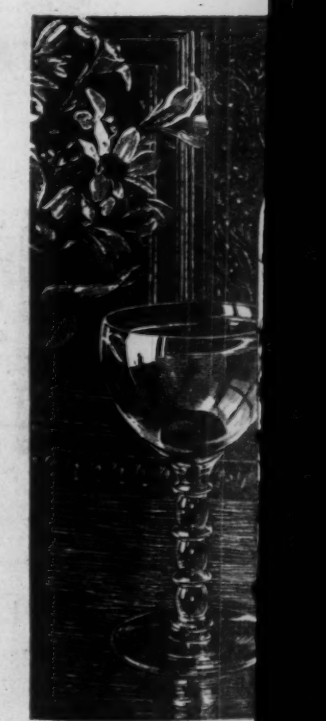

The notes were written as personal memoranda of his talks with Wilson and other Government leaders. They say that Wilson's wish was to be re-elected, obtain a second term, and continue his fight for American adherence to the League of Nations.

Pre-Inauguration Conference. The biography describes a conference between Glass and Roosevelt in a Mayflower Hotel room the night preceding the 1933 inauguration and says that President Hoover telephoned Roosevelt quoted as saying:

"I understand, Mr. President, that you are here now. We are discussing the banking situation. No, he does not think it is necessary to close the banks—my opinion is the Governors of the various states can take care of the closings wherever it is necessary. No, I prefer that you issue proclamations of this nature." Roosevelt then remarked, "The book continues, that he had visited Ogden Mills, Treasury Secretary."

Class Says His Refusal to Become Roosevelt's Treasury Secretary 'Was the Wisest Thing I Ever Did'

Comments on Biography, Which Declares He Tried in Vain to Learn President's Currency Views—Wilson Wanted Third Term.

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP).—Senator Carter Glass (Dem., Virginia), said today his refusal to become Secretary of the Treasury in the Roosevelt Cabinet in 1933 "was the wisest thing I ever did."

Commenting on the newly published biography, "Carter Glass," the 61-year-old Virginian said also he had no regrets that he had not received the Democratic presidential nomination in 1920 and 1924. His name was prominently mentioned as a possible standard bearer in those years.

The biography was written by Riley Smith, the Senator's secretary, and Norman Beasley. Glass declined to detail his reasons for refusing the Treasury post, but the book says he did so after seeking unsuccessfully to ascertain President Roosevelt's views on currency matters.

The book includes notes written by Glass in 1920 saying that President Wilson wanted a third term in order to continue his fight for American adherence to the League of Nations.

The notes were written as personal memoranda of his talks with Wilson and other Government leaders. They say that Wilson's wish was to be re-elected, obtain adoption of the League Covenant and then resign.

Pre-Inauguration Conference.
The biography describes a conference between Glass and Roosevelt in a Mayflower Hotel room on night preceding the 1933 inauguration and says that President Hoover telephoned. Roosevelt is quoted as saying:

"I understand, Mr. President, Senator Glass is here now. We are discussing the banking situation.
No, he does not think it is necessary to close the banks—my own opinion is the Governors of the various states can take care of bank closings wherever it is necessary.
... No, I prefer that you issue proclamations of this nature."

Roosevelt then remarked, the book continues, that he had advised Ogden Mills, Treasury Secretary, that he would not approve a proclamation closing the banks.

"I see," Glass is quoted as responding. "What are you planning to do?"

"Planning to close them, of course," Roosevelt is said to have replied.

The book says that prior to his inauguration, Roosevelt commissioned the late William Woodin, whom he had chosen for Secretary of the Treasury, to represent him at meetings with Mills. It adds that Woodin's instructions were "not to agree to anything on the theory that not being in power the incoming administration is without responsibility."

Offer From Roosevelt.
Regarding President Roosevelt's offer to make Glass Secretary of the Treasury, the biography quotes the then President-elect as telling the Virginian in January, 1933:

"It's your duty to your party, and to your country to assume this post. I won't take 'no' for an answer." The President spoke, it was said, "in a somewhat exasperated vein."

Glass, the book says, repeatedly sought to ascertain Roosevelt's views "on currency matters" but received no satisfactory answers.

He then decided to decline the Treasury place, it is said, even though "all manner of pressure was put on the Virginian to accept the post."

The book details Glass' fight for

The Senator, the biography says, made notes after a series of visits to the White House shortly before the Democratic convention at San Francisco in the summer of 1920.

Wanted Third Term.

One of the notes, dated June 10, 1920, says:

"(The late Admiral Cary T.)
Grayson (Wilson's physician) told President seriously contemplating permitting himself to be named for third term and said it would kill him. Later in day (Albert S.) Bulreson (Wilson's Postmaster-General) told me he believed President wanted third term, saying he had told President

inated to which

Another note, dated June 16, 1920, said that "Grayson at executive offices expressed to me greatest anxiety about President's third term thoughts, saying he literally impossible to measure up to the exactions of campaign. Would probably kill him."

"Said President's sole idea was to lead fight for covenant; he was totally indifferent to all other considerations. Would resign after covenant adopted."

Glass adds that he told Grayson the convention could not be induced to nominate a man "in President's disabled condition" and that "if President was in robust health twice barely possible Democratic party and American people might submerge third term antipathies in their desire for permanent guaranty against war. ... Grayson begged me to do all possible to guard

President made against such an untoward development at San Francisco."

A note dated June 19, 1920, says Glass had been to tea with the President and Mrs. Wilson and adds:

"We briefly commented on some of the men talked of for the nomination. Of Mitchell Palmer (Wilson's Attorney-General) I said he would make a good President, but a weak candidate, having in the performance of his duty offended powerful groups of men."

"Exactly," said the President,
"hence his nomination would be futile."

"As for Cox," I started, when the President broke in, saying, "Oh, you know Cox's nomination would be a joke," to which I fervently assented."

James M. Cox was nominated but was defeated for the presidency by Warren G. Harding.

charged.

William M. Dallett, former head of the Dallett Auto Supply Co., 318 North Tenth street, East St. Louis, and his wife, Natalie, were charged in another indictment with concealing $9000 of the company's assets in bankruptcy proceedings in 1937-38.

United States Attorney Arthur
Roe said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that Dallett filed a petition for corporate reorganization Oct.
31, 1937, and that the firm was adjudged bankrupt in Federal court May 1, 1938. In the interim,

New Frigidaire "Cold-Wall" Saves Foods from Drying Out!

ONLY ONE OF ITS KIND IN THE WORLD!

SAVES FOODS' VITAL FRESHNESS—PROLONGS
ORIGINAL FLAVOR, COLOR, DAYS LONGER

• Just realize this one important fact and you'll be convinced that the new "Cold-Wall" Frigidaire is an entirely new kind of refrigerator! ... You don't have to cover foods in a "Cold-Wall" Frigidaire, yet they keep their vital freshness, appearance, and natural juices day after day!

This amazing new "Cold-Wall" Frigidaire ... first of its kind ever built ... saves foods from drying out ... without covers of any kind! It preserves freshness, flavor, color ... yes, even rich nutritional values of food for days on end!
These vital values stay in food because they are not dried out by moisture-robbing air currents.

HOW AMAZING "COLD-WALL" PRINCIPLE WORKS

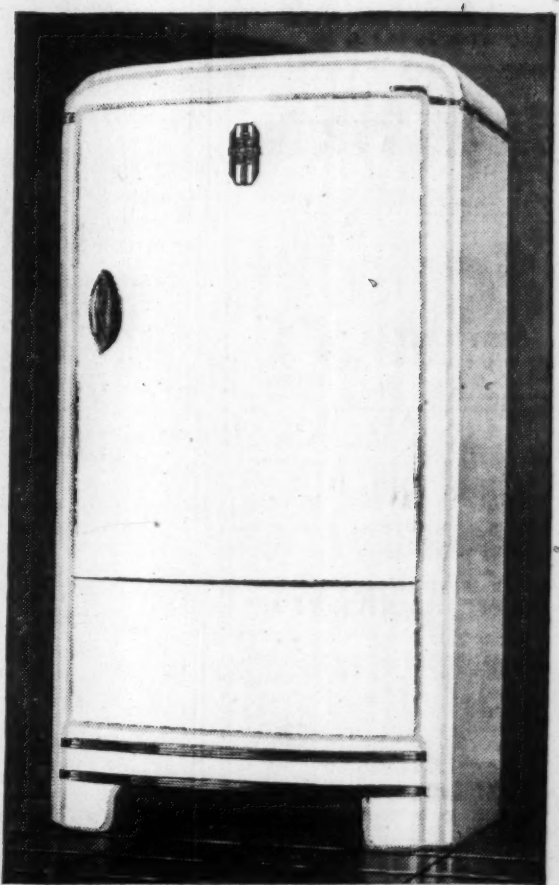

A solid glass partition—called a "Dew-Fresh-Seal"— divides the Frigidaire cabinet into 2 compartments. The upper compartment is refrigerated by the Super-Freezer, just as always. The lower compartment is refrigerated directly through the walls by concealed refrigerating coils. This provides all 3 essentials for keeping foods vitally fresh longer than ever before! 1. Uniform Low Temperatures.
2. 95 to 100% Humidity. 3. No Moisture-Robbing Air Circulation. All without adding a single moving part! AND ONLY FRIGIDAIRE HAS IT!

No other refrigerator can bring you greater advancements. Because only Frigidaire has the "Cold-Wall." Greater storage capacity, because now dishes and foods can be packed closer together and without fear of odor-and-flavor transfer! No messy wrapping of food is necessary!

And think of the savings in food ... because left-over meats, cooked and fresh vegetables of all kinds keep as delicious as when first prepared!

It's new throughout. New Super-Moist Hydrators for preserving up to 100% natural moisture in fresh fruits and vegetables. New Meat-Tender for saving fresh meats. New improved Quickcube Trays for fastest freezing and removal of ice cubes.
And the famous Meter-Miser for rock-bottom operating costs. Frigidaire offers you all these exclusive features. Yet, the "Cold-Wall" Frigidaire costs no more than ordinary "first-line" refrigerators.
It's the refrigerator of tomorrow that can so easily be yours today! See it at your Frigidaire dealer's.

NURSE KILLED HERSELF, INQUEST VERDICT SAYS

Death of Miss Perry April 28, First Laid to Pneumonia, Due to Poison.

The suicide of Miss Helen Perry, a nurse in the St. Charles County clubhouse of Dr. Frank L. Davis, became known today. When her death was reported at Missouri Baptist Hospital April 28, police investigated and reported they were told she had died of pneumonia.

A coroner's jury, however, returned a verdict of suicide by poison May 1. Frank L. Davis Jr., Washington University medical student, testified he discovered Miss Perry unconscious in his father's club the night of April 27. He and another student went there to study and had to force their way in because the door was locked from the inside. Later they found two empty boxes which had contained a drug.

Davis said he applied cold towels to Miss Perry's head and made coffee but could not get her to drink it. Then he telephoned his father, who told him to pick him up at their home, 6123 Westminster place, and together they took the nurse to the hospital. She died the following night without regaining consciousness. She was 39 years old and lived at 1239 Amherst place.

The younger Davis testified he had known Miss Perry for years because she was his father's nurse. "He gave some of the nurses permission to use the club; they knew where the key was and could use it any time," he said.

Miss Mary Pike, a nurse who lived with Miss Perry, testified she left home in her automobile early in the evening, saying she was going for a drive. The car later was found at the clubhouse. Alonzo H. and William G. Perry, brothers of the dead woman, testified they knew of no reason why she should want to end her life. Alonzo is secretary of the St. Louis Fire Insurance Co. and lives at 3918 Potomac street. His brother, an adjuster for the same company, lives at 3080 Humphrey street.

Patrolman Edward Seyfried of the Page Boulevard Station testified he investigated the death at the hospital and asked whether any trace of poison had been found. A physician told him there was no poison and that she had died of pneumonia. Miss Pike testified immediately at the hospital.

Dr. Davis, a surgeon with offices in the University Club Building, declined to comment.

The body of Miss Perry was sent to Cassville, Mo., for burial.

THE BEST!

Yes, indeed, it tops the Hardy Hit Parade. It's No. 6 in the series that has become beloved by all America. And it's funnier THAN ALL THE OTHERS ROLLED INTO ONE! You'll shriek when these simple folks inherit a fortune, a butler and a lot of headaches overnight. The chorus girls take Mickey for a millionaire playboy—a city slicker tricks sister—but Mom settles for a new frying pan. All new adventures, but they'll touch your heart as only this unique American screen family can do. Bring your family, too! They'll all love it!

AUTO FOUND BESIDE WIRE FENCE IT KNOCKED DOWN

Owner Is In New York and His Chauffeur Says Someone Stole Car.

A Buick coupe was found this morning on the north shoulder of Express Highway, just north of Hampton avenue, where it had knocked down 130 feet of wire guard fence apparently after getting out of control.

Police traced the ownership to Simon Edison, 4 Fordyce Lane, Ladue, who is in New York. His chauffeur, Elmer Schmidt, said the car was parked last night at Big Bend boulevard and Westmoreland place. He said he discovered it had been stolen when he returned at 3 o'clock this morning.

Senate Passage of Stark Police Bill Is Expected

debate and without opposition from any of the Pendergast forces, which have apparently abandoned hope of further delaying the measure.

Lafferty told the House the bill would be reported by his committee late tomorrow or early Friday morning, making it available for a final vote.

Under the House rules Lafferty could have held the bill in his committee until Tuesday, and previously had refused to indicate an intention to report it earlier, having opposed a previous request by William B. Weakley, who is handling the bill on the floor, to report it in time for a vote tomorrow. With a vote Tuesday in the House, the bill should be in the Senate Wednesday, and in shape for reference to a committee Thursday.

Grandstand Rush for Bill.

To all appearances now the bill will be passed by a substantial majority in each house, there being something of a grandstand rush of legislators to support it. This is due in no small measure to the political hole in which the 51 Republican House members have put the Democrats. By voting in a solid bloc to defeat crippling amendments, the Republicans are credited with the success of the bill in the House. This put the Democrats in the position of being forced to take prompt and favorable action in the Senate, or of accepting the responsibility for a colossal political blunder.

Reports reaching Jefferson City from all parts of the State say there is a tremendous sentiment in support of the Governor. This is undoubtedly having its effect on Senators and Representatives, many of whom would be inclined to vote with the Kansas City organization men did they not fear the effect on their political futures.

Force of Public Opinion.

One Senator, whose record places him with the Casey group generally, said today that he would be forced to support the bill for political reasons, if for no other.

"What can I do?" he said. "With sentiment as it is in my district, I could not hope to be elected to any office if I opposed this bill. When I go home I can talk all I want about the correctness of the theory of home rule, but that doesn't get me any place. The folks there ask quite frankly whether I am with the Governor or with the Kansas City crooks."

Talk of an adjournment of the Legislature without Senate action on the police bill has almost stopped, though a few days ago it was quite generally expected that adjournment would come before it got out of the Senate committee. There was much speculation as to whether the Governor would call a special session of the Legislature if there were no action, or whether he would carry the fight to the voters in an initiative election.

Stark Says He Gave Kansas City Police No Assurance.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 10 (AP).—Gov. Lloyd C. Stark insisted today he had sent no personal word of assurance to members of the Kansas City Police Department concerning their status should the Kansas City police bill become law. He said, however, that the message given police heads by a highway patrol captain yesterday was in substance his own feelings toward the Kansas City department.

"Col. B. Marvin Casteel (highway patrol head) and I were talking about another matter yesterday," Stark said. "In the course of our conversation I mentioned that no honest, upright and straightforward policeman need fear for his job should the State Police Board be set up. I told him the crooks and gangsters would go out immediately, but no honest, efficient officer need be concerned."

Casteel asked if I would object to, as he termed it, "that word being passed along," and I replied, "Of course not."

Princesses Ride Elephant.

LONDON, May 10 (AP).—Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose had their first ride on an elephant at the London Zoo today. The occasion was a special treat which their parents, King George and Queen Elizabeth, are away to Canada and the United States.

REPORT TO STARK ON GEN. AMERICAN LIFE CO.'S AFFAIRS

No 'Pay Off,' 'No Fraud,' Found in Sale to Insurance Company of Old Missouri State.

The report of accountants and legal investigators on the sale of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. to the General American Life Insurance Co. in 1933 is in the hands of Gov. Lloyd C. Stark and Attorney-General Roy McKittick. As told in the Post-Dispatch April 21, the report shows no corrupt "payoff" or "irregularity" in connection with the transaction. The Post-Dispatch related that R. Emmet O'Malley, then State Superintendent of Insurance, endeavored to collect $200,000 from the organizers of General American as a "contribution" for the Pendergast political machine. His request was flatly refused by Walter W. Head, who represented Eastern capitalists in formation of the company, and who is now president of General American.

The report, prepared by the law firm of Polk & Williams, with the assistance of Ernst & Ernst, accountants, makes no specific recommendation to the Governor. The report was prepared at the instance of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce after the Governor, disturbed by current reports of a "payoff," requested Head to resign as president of the insurance company, Edgar D. Souers as vice-president, and Evelyn McHenry as a director. They refused to resign.

Treasury Bonds Deal.
While the investigators found nothing to criticize in the major transaction by which the assets of Missouri State Life were sold to General American, they did find some fault with a later deal in Treasury bonds. The insurance company, in 1935-36, allocated part of its purchases of bonds to the Drovers and Merchants' Bank of St. Joseph, Mo., the bank paying $372 less than what was held to be the market value of the bonds. "Mr. Head and his family, directly or indirectly, owned the controlling interest in the Drovers and Merchants' Bank," the report said.

In December, 1935, General American received a $1,150,000 allotment of Treasury bonds, of which, at Head's direction, $25,000 was allotted to the St. Joseph bank. In March, 1936, when $1,300,000 more of bonds was received by the insurance company, $30,000 of the bonds was allotted to the same bank. The bank paid the price for the bonds in each case, with a certain amount additional for the premium on the bonds; but there was a difference, mostly in the second transaction, between the amount paid and the full market price, including premium, which the accountants estimated at $372.

"We are unable to find that the transaction in these bonds, in view of Mr. Head's relationship (to the bank management) was justified or proper," the report said.

Head when asked by a Post-Dispatch reporter yesterday as to this detail of the report, said he had not seen the report, and had not been made acquainted with the charges which the lawyers and accountants were asked to investigate.

"Mr. Head" explained the transaction in each instance, the report stated. "He said that in each instance General American got a larger allotment (of bonds) than was contemplated, and that he had told the other officers that, if there was an excess, he wanted it to go to the Drovers and Merchants' Bank."

Another matter into which the investigators went, without finding any ground for censure, was the handling of companies holding the Southeast Missouri land and cotton interests of the insurance company. It was found that Head's brother, Richard D. Head Jr., was employed by the companies at $4000 a year, but that Charles B. Baker was in charge. Inquiry as to loans made to Baker showed that Baker repaid the loans in 1936.

As to the "payoff" rumor, the report says: "After running down every available source of these rumors, we have found no competent evidence to support them." The investigators say they found "no fraud or corrupt agreement on the part of Mr. Head or any other officer of General American in connection with the events leading up to the sale; no fraud or improper action in connection with the (Missouri State Life) receivership suit; no fraud in connection with findings as to impairment of (Missouri State Life) assets; and no evidence of misrepresentation as to the assets in the General American's financial statement."

Announcing 4 new Nash Dealers to Serve St. Louis

NOW four outstanding new dealers in town join with us . . . to present to you the 1939 Nash cars.

Special displays of new models are on their floors now. Drop in for a visit. But don't stop at seeing these cars—not even looking at the lively, power-packed lines of a Nash can give you the "feel" of it. You've got to get in and go.

There's a new kind of engine up in front that acts like a thoroughbred stinging under the spur. There's a wheel in your hand, gears at your finger-tips, that are almost as quick as thought.

There's a dial you turn (the Nash "Weather Eye") and cold weather, smoky air, dust, dirt, insects, are banished from motoring forever.

Just press that throttle a little harder—and you'll burst into a new range of flying performance, the Fourth Speed Forward.

Then listen—to silence. Mile after mile of travel so free of road noise and wind whistle that you seem to be floating on a cloud.

Or do a quick little trick with the seat, and presto!—a double bed is ready for those week-ends in the woods! (And remember, the Nash LaFayette is economy champion in its class!)

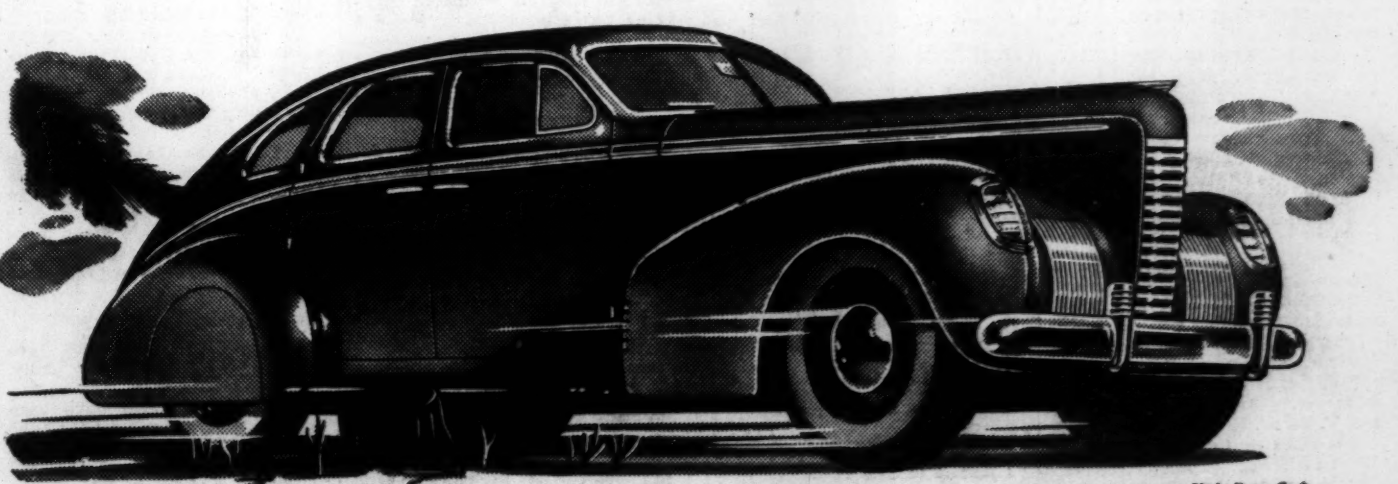

Yes—you can buy a new Nash on the basis that it gives you more horsepower, more room, more car weight—for your money.

These new dealers all say: "Come on down! We guarantee to make you forget any car you ever owned!"

CARDINALS WIN FROM PHILLIES, 4 TO 3; YANKEES 6, BROWNS 0 (INNINGS) DOURAY

Birds Tie for Lead; Three Hits Each for Medwick and Brown

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, May 10.—The surprising Cardinals went into a tie for first place with the Reds when they defeated the Phillies here this afternoon, 4-3, in a hard-fought, thrilling contest which was in doubt until the final moment.

Taking a 4-2 lead as early as the third inning, Ray Blades' men had a fight on their hands until the end and Bob Bowman had to come in from the bullpen to pitch to Virgil Davis for the final out. Lon Warneke, who had pitched magnificent ball up to the ninth, showed signs of weakening and after walking Pinch Hitter Klein with Hershel Martin on third, was removed in favor of Bowman, who forced Davis to pop to Mize.

Bowman's rescue work was just the opposite from a bit of strategy pulled by Blades in Boston. There Bowman pitched eight and two-thirds innings and seemed to weaken and Warneke was sent in to pitch a third strike to Goody, which ended the game in victory for the Birds. Bowman and Warneke also pitched in one of the Brooklyn games, but lost.

The Cards today scored one run in the first on singles by Brown and Medwick, but the Phillies came back to go in front, 2-1, on a double by Young and successive hits by Brack, Arnovich and May. A base on balls to Warneke and Brown's double tied it at 2-2 in the second, while in the third St. Louis barged into a 4-2 advantage.

Pepper Martin's double and hits by Medwick, Mize and Moore scored two runs. The Phils came within one run of tying the count in the sixth when Brack led off with a triple and crossed on Arnovich's roller to Brown.

Perfect weather prevailed and the Ladies' day crowd was estimated at 7000.

Campbell, Ballant and Klem were the umpires.

FIRST INNING—CARDINALS—Brown singled to center, S. Martin grounded out to Whitney. Young tossed out J. Martin. Brown going to third. Medwick singled to center, scoring Brown. Scharein let Mize's grounder go through him for a two-base error. Medwick stopping at third. Scharein tossed out Moore. ONE RUN.

PHILLIES—Young doubled to right. Scott grounded out to Mize. Young moving to third. Brack singled to left, scoring Young. Arnovich singled to left, Brack stopping at second. Arnovich was picked off first, Owen to Mize. May singled to center, scoring Brack. Whitney struck out. TWO RUNS.

SECOND—CARDINALS—Gutteridge struck out and led off. Brown thrown out. V. Davis to Whitney. Owen filed to Brack. Warneke walked. Brown doubled to center, scoring Warneke. S. Martin popped to Scharein. ONE RUN.

PHILLIES—Scharein fouled to J. Martin. V. Davis walked. P. Passeau forced V. Davis. Gutteridge to S. Martin. Young fouled to Medwick.

COURAY'S COLUMN

Strange Case of Bob Weiland.

BOB WEILAND, 32-year-old Cardinal southpaw, is one of baseball's puzzles. The altitudinous pitcher who failed in eight efforts to make the grade in the American League, made good the very first year he joined the Cardinals. He has been going big ever since.

This year he has begun his third season for the Cardinals and thus far, since joining the club in 1937 at the age of 30, he has won 32 games and lost 26 for a percentage of .552.

Prior to 1937 Weiland had been up four times with the Chicago White Sox, twice with the Red Sox, once with Cleveland and once with the Browns. After each effort he slipped back to the minors. In those eight attempts to make the big time Weiland won 25 games and lost 57, a winning percentage of only .305.

Max Means Business.

"THE MERRY MADCAP" has reformed," writes the clever Jersey Jones in dispensing publicity about the coming Bar-Nova fight in New York June 1. "The Magnificent Screwball still is magnificent—but no longer a screwball," he continues.

"After all these years the fight racket has become a grim, serious business to Max Baer, in training here for his 'Last Chance' meeting with Nova at Yankee Stadium."

So the leopard CAN change its spots. At least you'll have to believe it if you accept Jersey's statement that this another minor-league, frivolous-minded butterfly of championship days to the 'grim, determined' Baer pictured for us today.

Granting the change could happen, Baer should defeat this newcomer Nova and then step in line for a bout with the winner of the Louis-Galento fight June 28. Unfortunately for Max, this will NOT be Two-Ton Tony.

FACT IS, ALL REPORTS seem to agree that Max actually is doing his best to work hard and remain serious about this comeback—and we'll credit him with the intention. Should he continue to train faithfully perhaps he may get another title shot.

He will have earned it. For it's a far, far cry from that under-trained, frivolous-minded butterfly of championship days to the 'grim, determined' Baer pictured for us today.

Granting the change could happen, Baer should defeat this newcomer Nova and then step in line for a bout with the winner of the Louis-Galento fight June 28. Unfortunately for Max, this will NOT be Two-Ton Tony.

Churchyards Yawn.

PUGILIST GRAVES are giving up their dead daily. We've had a long parade of former champions who have been exhumed from retirement and sent back to the wars—with negative results.

There's Kid Berg, Kid Chocolate, Tony Canzoneri, Panama Al Brown and so forth. Jimmy Braddock vows he's on his way up too, and now we have another almost forgotten titleholder clamoring for a chance to get himself knocked goofy—Jimmy Slattery, light heavyweight king who was a pretty clever boy as champion, nine years ago. He has been out of the picture several years. Now he's coming back. At least he will try.

It's real tragedy that these men, nearing middle years, at an age when fighters ought to be seeking peace and quiet instead of punishment and defeat, should be forced by circumstances to come out again, without real ambition or even hope.

EUROPEAN BOXERS ARE READY FOR CONTESTS WITH CHICAGO TEAM

CHICAGO, May 10 (AP).—The pick of Europe's amateur fighters completed strenuous work today in preparation for their international bouts with the Chicago Golden Gloves team in the Stadium Friday night.

The Europeans will oppose virtually the same team that defeated the New York Golden Gloves squad, 9 to 7, several weeks ago.

The foreign squad is composed of Olli Lehtinen, Finland, 112 pounds; Pat Dowdall, Ireland, 118; Guido Nardocchia, Italy, 126; Egisto Leire, Italy, 135; Eric Agren, Sweden, 147; Anton Raadik, Estonia, 160; Luigi Musina, Italy, 175; and Nemcio Lazzari, Italy, heavyweight.

Ragon Kinney, rugged batter from Hartman, Ark., has been named captain of the Chicago team and will oppose Musina in the light-heavy class. The Italian heavyweight, Lazzari, is scheduled to face Altus Allen, sharp-punching Chicago Negro, who fought as a light-heavy in the Golden Gloves tournament.

Henry (Hank) Decker, Jacksonville (Fla.) pro, and Bunney Torpey, Kansas City pro, were tied for third place with 73s.

U. City Golfers Win.

University City High School's golf team defeated Normandy, 404 strokes to 435, yesterday afternoon in a Suburban League dual meet at University City's Municipal course. The teams played 14 holes. Wayne Buckner of U. City was low man with 60. Harold Thomas, U. City, had 64 and Bill Dorris, Normandy, 65.

M'BRIDE AND C. B. C. WIN IN PREP LEAGUE

Left-fielder Bernsen's home run with two men on helped McBride High School's baseball team to come from behind and defeat South Side Catholic, 4 to 3, in a Prep League game yesterday at Carondelet Park.

South Side got off to a three-run lead in the first inning but McBride counted four runs in the third and that was the score at the finish.

Christian Brothers High, with Steuber pitching a four-hit game, gained an easy Prep League victory over Western Military Academy at C. B. C. The score was 10 to 0.

University City turned in a non-league triumph, defeating McKinley, 4 to 3. Wellston upset Webster, 5 to 4, in 10 innings. Kirkwood won from Ritenour, 9 to 4. As Schulte held Ritenour to five hits and struck out seven batters.

On the East Side Catholic of East St. Louis beat Marquette of Alton, 11 to 5, in a Catholic High School League game at Alton.

VISITATION ACADEMY FIELD DAY FRIDAY

The program for field day at the Academy of the Visitation next Friday has been completed by Miss Louise Daly, athletic director. Activities will get under way at 9:45 a. m. with the morning schedule calling for dashes, broad jumps and shot puts for the upper school; dashes and a baseball game for the intermediate, and baseball, croquet and high jump for the preparatory.

Tennis finals for the school championship, with Helen Elaine Brumm and Betty Pickel, and high jump, intermediate—High and broad jumps and shot put. Preparatory—Dashes, broad jumps and class relays. Primary—Children's events and bag race.

Following presentation of awards by the Rev. John Godfrey of St. Rose's Church, there will be a baseball game between the school champions and a team made up of fathers of the titleholders. It is scheduled to begin at 4 o'clock.

GIBSON TAKES LEAD IN GOLF TOURNEY

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 10 (AP).—Leland (Duke) Gibson, Kansas City professional, sank a 12-foot putt on the eighteenth green yesterday for a sub-par 69 and the lead at the end of 18 holes in a $750 added golf open which drew 109 contestants from six states.

Leon Dodson, loquacious young 72 over the tree-studded, hump-backed Swope Park course for second place.

Henry (Hank) Decker, Jacksonville (Fla.) pro, and Bunney Torpey, Kansas City pro, were tied for third place with 73s.

U. City Golfers Win.

University City High School's golf team defeated Normandy, 404 strokes to 435, yesterday afternoon in a Suburban League dual meet at University City's Municipal course. The teams played 14 holes. Wayne Buckner of U. City was low man with 60. Harold Thomas, U. City, had 64 and Bill Dorris, Normandy, 65.

Phils Release Atwood.

PHILADELPHIA, May 10 (AP).—Bill Atwood, 26-year-old catcher, was released yesterday by the Philadelphia National League club on option to the Jersey City club in the International League.

Dickey and Selkirk Smash Home Runs Off Marcum in First

By J. Roy Stockton

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, May 10.—Johnny Marcum, who has won two and lost two for the Browns, pitched against the Yankees this afternoon in their first 1939 game in St. Louis, with Lefty Gomez on the hill for the visitors. It was the first time since 1925 that a Yankee team appeared here without Lou Gehrig as the starlin first baseman.

Babe Dahlgren was at first base for the world champions, Gehrig riding the bench.

Charlie Keller, a recruit from Newark, was in left for New York and Tommy Henrich subbed for the injured DiMaggio in center.

About 3500 persons attended. Zolls, Rue and Geisel were the umpires.

FIRST—YANKEES—Crossetti singled to left. Rolfe's pop fly fell safe for a single behind Henrich. Crossetti stopping at second. Henrich filed to Bell. Dickey hit to the pavilion roof for a home run and scored behind Crossetti and Rolfe.

Keller popped to Berardino. Selkirk hit to the pavilion roof for a home run. Gordon popped to Henrich. FOUR RUNS.

BROWNS—Gordon threw out Thompson. Gomez seemed to be having trouble with his arm and after he threw one ball to Henrich, he was taken out of the box and Hadley pitched for the Yankees.

The Yankee dugout reported that Gomez had pulled a muscle in his side. Henrich filed to Henrich. McQuinn popped to Crossetti.

SECOND—YANKEES—Cliff made a good stop and threw out Dahlgren. Cliff also threw out Hadley. Crossetti grounded to Henrich.

BROWNS—Hoag walked. Cliff was called out on strikes. So was Bell. Berardino forced Hoag. Crossetti unsatisfied.

THIRD—YANKEES—Rolfe singled to right. Rolfe stole second. Henrich singled to right, scoring Rolfe. Dickey forced Henrich. Berardino to Henrich. Keller hit of McQuinn's glove to Berardino and McQuinn covered first in time to take Berardino's throw for the putout. Selkirk popped to Cliff. ONE RUN.

BROWNS—Glenn filed to Henrich. Marcum singled to center. Thompson filed to Keller. Henrich forced Marcum. Crossetti unsatisfied.

TWO HOMERS ENABLE THE TIGERS TO DEFEAT KANSAS, 3 TO 2

CHRISTMAN AND KEIRSEY POUND OUT 4-BAGGERS

LAWRENCE, Kan., May 10 (AP).—Two home runs in the sixth gave the Missouri Tigers a 3-to-2 victory over Kansas today.

Sneed got on by an error, and Christman drove a homer to left field. Then Keirsey hit one into center field.

The Jayhawks tried to come back in the same inning, but were stopped at two runs. An error put Hensley on base, Holcom and Sands walked, and then Paris singled to right, scoring Hensley and Holcom.

The score: Missouri—000002000—3 7 2 Kansas—000002000—2 2 4 Batteries: Miles and Claus; Brass, Burge and Hall.

SPORTS SALAD by L. Davis

Back to Normal. THE tumult and the shouting dies.

The guests from Louisville depart. The hotel rates no longer rise.

For less than twenty bucks a day.

Stalin's books outsell Lenin's three to one. Wait until he has been dead as long as Nikolai and see what happens.

A sparrow in Ventnor, N. J., picked up a lighted stub of a cigarette, carried it home and set the house on fire. Ain't those sparrows the little fire-eaters?

In Louisville the factory whistles blow one long blast if the game is

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Reflections From Camdenton.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I LIVE in a small, drowsy town in Missouri. You reach it over 12 miles of dirt road. The nearest big town is 50 miles away, and so-called big city "culture" does not reach us in any sizable doses. We don't study economics down here, but we have learned one fundamental lesson which the officials in Washington don't yet seem to have comprehended—you can't go on buying what you haven't paid for.

We seem to have enough work for everybody here. Some have a little more and some have a little less, but on the other hand, we all eat. It seems to me that in the city, too many people spend what they have never earned, and that's how the country gets into trouble.

Now the Government is trying to do the same thing to get us out of trouble. They're paying men not to work, and paying so well that he can't afford to start again. They're paying him to have more children, who'll be unemployed and do the same thing.

God intended men to work, and if men can't get jobs in the cities, there is always the country left. True, they may not afford late model cars, electric refrigerators and some of the other luxuries of the big city in the country. But they can live in moderate circumstances, and with honor, off the bounty of the land. They can learn that man is yet a creature of dignity, not meant to be either servant or hireling, or the object of political aims.

It's a lesson the whole country needs to learn.

"There Are Smiles—"

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
THE picture in Sunday's Post-Dispatch of the dynamic family from Hyde Park would warm the cockles of any orthodoxist's heart. All were grinning broadly, or had their mouths wide open, displaying not only the incisors, but the cuspids, bicuspid, and I believe I could see one of grandpa's molars.

That "grandma and grandpa can touch their noses with their tongues" is good for a laugh. Perhaps this accomplishment accounts for the loquacity of the descendants of "Claus Martensen."

For a Younger Teachers' Corps.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

THERE has been displayed recently in the various papers such an amount of news concerning the apparent lack of resources of the St. Louis schools that I would like to state an obvious reason for it.

In stating the reason, a question must first be asked. In brief, the question is this: "Why are those in charge of the hiring and the firing of the teachers inclined to believe that the schools are overburdened with the children of the city?" Even the parents of the children have difficulties in this respect, and for the most part parents of children of school age are far younger than the seafaring teachers.

If a general transfusion could be undertaken, the school system would show a marked improvement in a very short time. By this is meant that if young graduates of colleges who have majored in certain educational fields would be annexed to the teaching staff, and at the same time the oldsters would be dismissed and placed on some sort of a pension, if that is possible, the educational surveys would be astounded if they could view the same school system in a year or two at the most.

Americanism vs. Anti-Semitism.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

ANTI-SEMITISM isn't pleasant to talk about, but, after all, it's an old, old chestnut. It was used as an attack on the French Republic at the time of the Dreyfus affair. It was used successfully against the Weimar Republic. Now we are hearing it here, and the horns of the dilemma are as far apart as ever.

We can believe that "we should do something about the Jews," or we can sincerely believe in the Constitution and Thomas Jefferson's self-evident truths. We can't sincerely do both. A. K. L.

A Tribute to Frank P. Walsh.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

YOUR recent editorial, "A Useful Life," was a worthy tribute to the late Frank P. Walsh. He was respected in all branches of the legal profession and was known as a hard worker and safe adviser. His energy knew no bounds, and it was said that he sacrificed his health to the service of his profession and his clients.

In the trial of his cases he was self-assertive and self-reliant. By fair dealing and manly conduct he steadily built up a profitable clientele, and at the time of his death, was recognized as one of America's outstanding lawyers.

In his personal relations with his fellow members of the bar, he was courteous and considerate, thereby winning and retaining the admiration and high esteem of his fellow practitioners. Frank Walsh was a forceful and brilliant speaker, which naturally added to his great success as a lawyer and brought to him many public honors. He will long be remembered for his kindly, genial personality, his sense of humor and his great friendliness.

WILLIAM BAGGOT.

GRAVES HAS GOT TO GO.

At last, Attorney-General McKittick has been convinced that W. W. Graves, Prosecuting Attorney of Jackson County, should go. It has taken him a long time to make up his mind. More than four months have passed since Gov. Stark brought the whole State to attention with the assertion that "Graves' continuous failure to prosecute ghastly felonies justifies his immediate removal from office."

McKittick made no move.

Since then, Graves has been indicted by Judge Southern's grand jury—the jury that, in the Judge's words, had "raised a corner of the curtain" on Kansas City's "mass of corruption."

Since then, a tempest of events has ripped that curtain. Boss Pendergast's indictment is the Jovian thunderbolt. But the lightning has signalled through the gambling combine and the dope ring. McElroy, the City Manager, has fled the storm by way of resignation, and so has Higgins, Director of the Police Department. The indicted O'Malley's performances as State Superintendent of Insurance have had a gale of publicity. Through the tattered curtain the people have seen a villainous reign of terrorism, streams of money tumbling into the treasuries of Pendergast's all-consuming business concerns.

For five terror-ridden years, W. W. Graves has been Prosecuting Attorney, and the terrorists have never seriously been molested. Elections have been stolen and citizens assaulted and sometimes killed, while the police drowsed unseeing on their beats, and Graves, with boon companions, ornamented the town's garish night life.

"Trailing Graves' official records is the murderous figure of the gangster, Gargotta, with his 27 continuances, culminating in the infamous dismissal of a charge that might have been a dead Sheriff if Gargotta's gun hadn't jammed."

W. W. Graves made the high office of Prosecuting Attorney a public menace. His betrayal of his trust imperiled life and property and, in effect, served as the protecting arm of the criminal underworld.

"I think everybody in the State knows that he (Graves) should be removed," says Gov. Stark. "Everybody" includes Attorney-General McKittick, who has finally announced his intention to institute ouster proceedings.

What persuaded the Attorney-General to act? Rumors are thick in Jefferson City. One has it that Graves was willing to resign on conditions. The big-shot gamblers wanted to bargain, too, it is whispered, by proffering to plead guilty if the charges against them were reduced to a misdemeanor.

The Governor's reported answer to such overtures was "No compromise." The answer is strictly in character. And Attorney-General McKittick, it is said, was peremptorily ordered by the Governor to proceed against Graves.

As the people of Missouri look at the United States District Attorney's office in Kansas City and compare it with the Attorney-General's office in Jefferson City, they may regretfully speculate on what the Stark administration could accomplish if McKittick were a Milligan.

But, with McKittick or without McKittick, Graves, as we said Jan. 10, "has got to go."

AND THE LEGISLATURE STALLS!

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP).—The Public Health Service estimated today that the loss of earning power and expense of treating 21,600 American cases of blindness caused by syphilis amounts to more than $10,000,000 a year.

Twenty-one thousand six hundred people in the United States known to be sightless because of syphilis, and yet the Missouri Legislature has not passed legislation to attack this wrecker of human life!

Wisconsin and Indiana have extended to their citizens the protection of a marriage health law, already given by Illinois. Missouri will be shockingly derelict if it does not start the bloc of states spreading in this direction.

Which is more important—the fees of Justices of the Peace in Eastern Missouri counties or the health and happiness of untold men and women and children-to-be? So far, our legislators have sided with the fee-hungry marriage Justices. Will the people of Missouri accept that choice?

NO REVIEW FOR THE CONVICTED MINERS.

The United States Supreme Court has declined to consider the appeal of 34 Illinoisans convicted of violating Federal anti-trust and mail statutes during the civil war between the United Mine Workers and the Progressive Miners unions in Southern Illinois. This means that these men will be required to serve two years in prison and pay $10,000 fines.

The Post-Dispatch said at the time of the mass conviction—one of the largest on record in Federal courts—that a review by the Supreme Court was in order. It was, and is, inconceivable that all 34 of those convicted were equally guilty in the mine and railroad bombings. The ringleaders in the destruction of property and endangerment of lives should pay a suitable penalty. Those who are less to blame should have been punished accordingly.

There is another side to this case. All the violence was not at the hands of the Progressive Miners. The record of killings is ample proof of that. Yet it is the Progressives who pay for the sins of both sides. It is no defense of the violence of the Progressives to say that justice should have been even-handed, that violence attributable to the other faction should have been brought to account in the courts as well. A review of the case by the Supreme Court would have mitigated the natural feeling of the 34 that they have received less than justice.

The Cronin & Cantwell Insurance Co. has withdrawn its application for a charter, and without a compromise.

HIGH BIDDING FOR THE FARM VOTE.

Like a snowball rolling down hill, the farm subsidies gather size and momentum as they go.

The election comes next fall, and the farm vote is a crucial factor. So the Senate has tacked an additional $382,000,000 to the already generous farm bill passed by the House. The bill calls for a stupendous total of $1,215,000,000 for agriculture for the next fiscal year.

President Roosevelt has demanded that the proposed increase in the farm subsidies be accompanied by new taxes to raise the necessary revenues. But taxpayers are voters, too, and the Senate probably will, as usual, check the bill to posterity.

All but a minor fraction of the more than a billion dollars which the Senate bill appropriates would go for rental and benefit payments for the landowners. Aside from a small sum to be spent on the farm tenancy program, the bill entirely overlooks the needs and claims of the 2,000,000 workers who, the Farm Security Administration finds, have been displaced by the crop control program and farm mechanization. Only a few of these 2,000,000 persons vote.

The House, let us hope, will stand its ground and turn down the Senate's increases. If it does not, the President should veto the bill and require Congress to rewrite the appropriation at a reasonable figure. Addition of a quarter-billion dollars to the national debt in order to provide a special election-year gift for the farmers is on an exact par with packing the relief rolls a few weeks before election day.

MORE RACKETEERS ON THE ROPES.

Gov. Stark has the little clique which has enslaved and exploited the service car drivers on the ropes.

His instructions to Attorney-General McKittick to file suit against them for penalties of $1,848,250 for doing an unlicensed insurance business has the group reeling. Their clever scheme was to use a Des Moines insurance company for a front while they themselves made profits of more than 100 per cent out of the extortionate liability rates they were collecting from members of the Service Car Drivers' Union.

Then Ted Cronin and his associates in mulcting the service car drivers conceived the idea of chartering an insurance company of their own. But, groggy from the blow Gov. Stark had administered, they made the mistake of including in the list of would-be incorporators three notorious ex-convicts.

These were: Dodd Slawson, who served time in Federal prison for his activities with a thriving automobile theft ring in St. Louis a few years ago.

William Remphry, whose police record shows 19 arrests, although only one conviction, for burglary.

When the Post-Dispatch published the records of these men, Cronin's attorney promptly withdrew the application for a charter.

These men, it should be remembered, are by no means the only ex-convicts and police characters Messrs. Cronin, Cantwell, Catanzaro and Schubert have associated themselves with in holding the Service Car Drivers' Union in line. The names of others have been published from time to time.

How long will the hard-working, underpaid men who comprise the rank and file of the Service Car Drivers' Union bend their backs under the lash of this grasping camorra?

Commenting on the tyranny and rapacity of this ruling clique, the Post-Dispatch said on Feb. 8:

Men who convert labor organizations to their own greedy purposes are subject to overthrow by one of two methods. The first is by revolt in the ranks. The second is by legal action, since usually law violations are involved.

As to the second method, the State is doing its part. It should not have to do the job alone.

SOME TRUTHS ABOUT WHISKY.

There is a case of Scotch whisky in the Supreme Court. How come? A word of explanation will suffice. Our Federal Alcohol Administration, accepting the British definition of Scotch whisky as whisky contrived exclusively of spirits distilled in Scotland, refused to admit as "blended Scotch" a compound of half Scotch and half Northern Irish whisky. The ruling has been protested. And so the lawsuit.

Needless to say, the country confidently awaits and will proudly accept the Supreme Court's verdict. But the exporter of the banned liquor, as we are prepared to show, did mislabel his product, and rather inexcusably, too. It is the law of the land in Scotland that Scotch whisky must be distilled from mashing materials consisting of malted barley, and nothing else, while the Irish custom has been to use malted barley, "either alone or with unmalted barley, oats or rye." There can be no dissent from that ancient truth and immemorial custom.

Now, turn back to Queen Elizabeth's day. Forget Shakespeare, who, when he glorified abstinence, had probably been doing business with a bootlegger. Listen, instead, to the worthier Stanhurst on Irish whisky: "One Theoricus," he quotes, "wrote a proper treatise of aqua vitae (a nectar Ireland was making and drinking in the sixteenth century), where he praisth it to the ninth degree. . . . Uistadist also ascribeth thereto a singular praise. . . . Truile it be a sovereign liquor if it be orderly taken."

It was the god Osiris who gave whisky to man, but Egyptologists concede that the Osirian gift was perfected in that emerald incense of Ireland, prosily called peat-smoke.

The proper label for the excluded Scotch-Irish liquor, we submit, should have been "Better than Scotch Whisky." The defense rests, contentedly.

BACKDOWN OF THE EQUALIZATION BOARD.

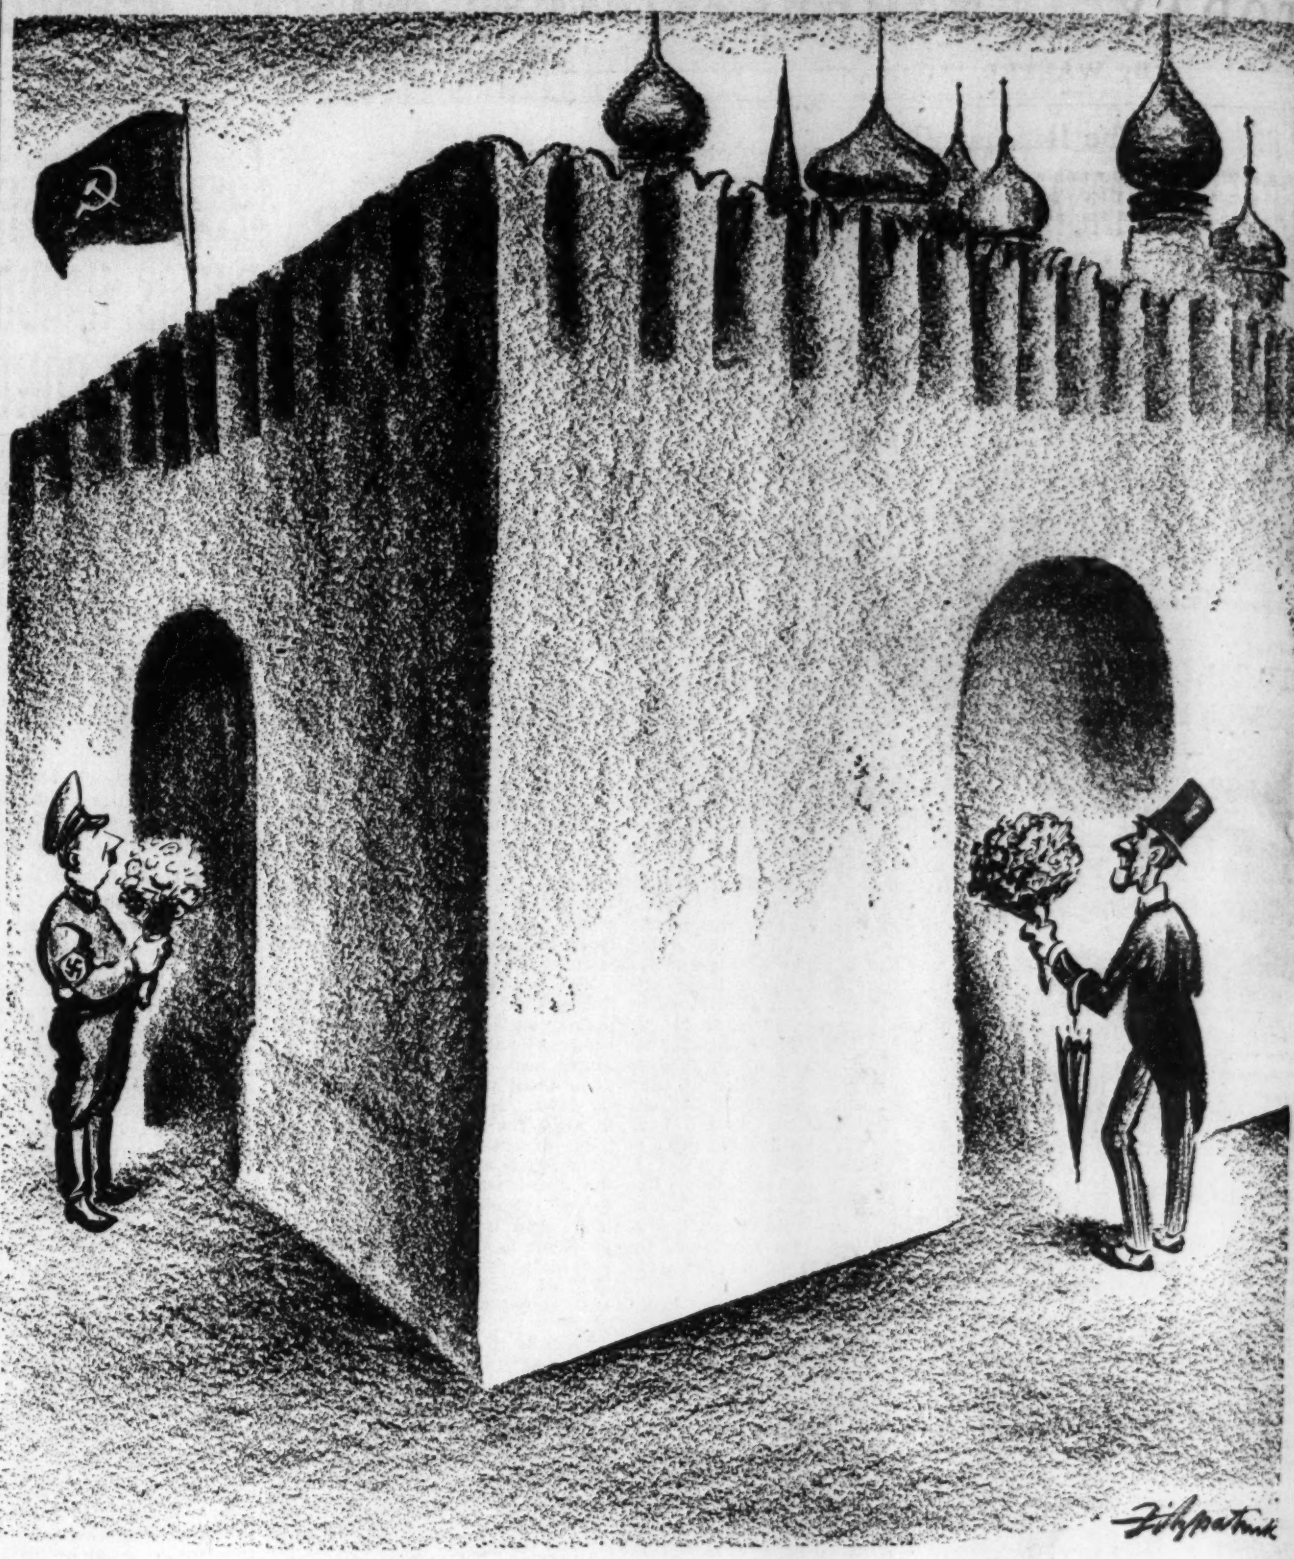

Public protest by a group of outraged taxpayers has forced the St. Louis County Board of Equalization to reconsider its strange proceeding of two months ago in the St. Louis County Gas Co.'s assessment.

In that proceeding, the board decided, in cut-and-dried fashion, to reject Assessor Neaf's valuation of $2,550,160 on the company's property, and to fix the figure at $1,433,510, an increase of only $6010 over last year. Furthermore, the board wholly disregarded the serious charge made by Mr. Neaf that the company had made a fraudulent return. (The board is composed of the four County Judges, the Assessor, and the County Surveyor. The latter was absent from the meeting in March.)

"There is something screwy about the whole business," Mr. Neaf said, after he had been cold-shouldered by the board, and the company had come off with flying colors. A group of citizens, banded together in the St. Louis County Taxpayers' Protective Association, agrees with Mr. Neaf. So does Prosecuting Attorney Stanley Wallach. As a result of their protests, the board yesterday agreed to reopen the matter, to hear further evidence and to admit Mr. Neaf and a representative of the Prosecutor's office to the hearings.

Further inquiry is assuredly in order. The company, an affiliate of the Union Electric Co., valued its properties for rate-making purposes at $8,086,000, yet reported a valuation of only $724,880 for tax purposes. Its vice-president, Albert C. Laun (also a vice-president and chief lobbyist of Union Electric) graciously consented to accept an assessment figure of $1,427,500. It is this weird juggling of figures that Mr. Neaf describes as "screwy," and it is this which aroused the citizens and the Prosecuting Attorney.

That hearing next Tuesday, when full evidence will be heard, should be a much more interesting session than the meeting two months ago, which the board hastily adjourned when Mr. Neaf left the room to get his data.

A College That Is Different

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Stephens' efforts to prepare girls for efficient living draw praise in magazine of social content; courses in cosmetics, carriage and voice modulation are balanced with study of orthodox subjects, but approach is always informal and in terms of students' interests.

George Kent in Survey Graphic.

WHEN, in 1921, President James Madison Wood determined to make Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., a training ground for students in later life, he persuaded 305 college-bred women—spinsters, mothers of families, business women—living in 37 states, to keep diaries over three years.

These daily records, revealing how the women spent their time, what they learned at college, what activities they felt college should have prepared them for, became the raw material of a completely new college program aimed at the real interests of the students, not at educating girls to pass examinations and take degrees.

The program, worked out with the help of Dr. W. W. Charters of Ohio State University, is now in full operation and gives the 1528 girls of this junior college a means of acquiring skills, viewpoints and resources which will be most useful in adult life.

Everywhere on the Stephens campus you run into something that cuts through the traditional curriculum to what really matters to the students. The very classrooms are different. Instead of cold rows of seats before a dais, breeding a strained, self-conscious attitude toward learning, many of the rooms are furnished with brightly colored draperies and rugs, divans and easy chairs. The instructor delivers few formal lectures, seldom even calling the roll. Examinations are taken as a measure of progress rather than as final tests. And it works. Talk flies in these classrooms, eagerly and intelligently. The students learn by thinking and doing, not by listening passively with notebooks ajar.

In the physical education periods, the girls play golf and tennis, tap-dance and ride horseback. Exercise of the old-fashioned kind is administered only to reduce weight or correct physical faults. Week ends off the campus with relatives are encouraged because the faculty found that girls who went away did better in their classes than those who did not. During the spring holiday, some 500 girls take a long, chaperoned tour.

In the gymnasium, you discover students parading before an arrangement of motion picture cameras and mirrors—a new attack on the seedy old problem of posture. The girls take it seriously. I saw students in the corridors strolling with books on their heads—a posture device. Visitors are always commenting on the girls' beauty.

Not long ago, the newspapers made much of the fact that Stephens was teaching the art of cosmetics. Other college officials raised their hands in horror. But, Dr. Wood reasoned, if girls will daub on lipstick, why not show them how to do it artistically? Personality and self-confidence are often tied up with this superficial practice.

In the clothing clinic at Stephens, six seamstresses make dresses for students under the supervision of an expert designer. Price per dress, $8. Here the rancher's daughter and the over-dressed city girl come to discuss questions of color harmony, style, material, suitability.

Each faculty adviser tries to work out an individualized schedule of studies for each girl. Instructors of even such traditional subjects as Latin and mathematics are urged to spend two weeks studying the personalities of the girls. Students are encouraged to reveal themselves in autobiographies and

On Buying Federal Bonds

Books in the News

MRS. S. F. PORTER, the young financial editor of the New York Post, knows enough about the United States Government securities market to write a book about it, a book well worth reading. But this is no reason for calling the volume "How to Make Money in Government Bonds" (Harper & Brothers, New York).

As a matter of fact, the writer does know a time or two that it is possible to lose money in this particular market, as in any other, and it should be obvious that every chance one has of profiting is matched by a possibility somewhat less pleasant. Unless the speculator has a great deal of money, he won't be able to follow her suggestions, so the reader should not plan on retiring after reading the book.

Mrs. Porter's best foot goes forward in her account of the operation known as "free riding." This is the purchase, at year, of new Government obligations and their immediate sale in the open market, where customarily they command a price a few points above par. Because the issues are usually many times over-subscribed and the securities assigned to the subscribers on a pro rata basis, the buyer must ask for and make substantial payment on a large number of bonds to be sure of getting any for his "free ride." Naturally, this requires considerable capital, but undoubtedly it can be profitable.

Another situation offering an attractive chance to the large investor is the fact that although the various Government issues maintain a fairly constant price relationship to one another, sometimes one set of obligations will decline out of proportion to the rest. Since the price may be expected to climb back to its usual place, the experienced trader by "arbitraging" will sell the higher-priced securities, buy the lower and wait until the differential disappears before taking his profit and resuming his original position.

These and other trading operations are discussed with clarity in Mrs. Porter's book. She makes an illuminating analysis of the factors affecting bond prices, the Treasury's extraordinary control, the economic justification of the Government's rigging of its securities market, the effect of removing tax exemptions from the bonds and the prospects for further growth in the national debt.

The writer makes the interesting observation that banks have ceased to be primarily lending institutions and have become investment trusts. She thinks the bond market is here to stay for many years, offering a profitable field for speculation. L. E. L.

IN "Call to Reason" (Farrar & Rinehart, Inc., New York), the Swedish industrialist Axel Wenner-Gren, regrets the growth of Socialist tendencies in his country. He proposes a Council of the Elect to keep Sweden on its middle way. That middle way has been achieved largely by capital and labor co-operating. Failure to do this, the author thinks, has handicapped the United States in its efforts to reach a sound economic basis. H. J. Z.

ROLAND BARKER and William Doeglinger present an exciting novel based on the slave running of the early 1800s in "The Middle Passage" (Macmillan Co., New York). Sea fights and the wild and uncertain life of the Guinea coast afford background for plenty of action. Bishop, the hero; Admiral Porpoise, a black pattern of loyalty; Bias Covado, the slave factor; and Capt. Viall, the veteran slaver, burn enough gunpowder to keep the reader up late. R. B.

ALTHOUGH it is impossible to guess about what Stalin will take in the future, one thing is now clear, that, since about the middle of March, Russia has emerged more as a major Power in the relations of the Old World.

Russia, which was excluded from the diplomacy of Munich by common consent of the four powers, is now being wooed by them. One has only to read the report of Stalin made on March 18 to the eighteenth congress of the Communist party to understand that the Russians are fully aware of this change in their position and that they mean to make most of it.

Therefore, in speculating on reasons for Litvinov's return, the best approach is to deduce reasons for the event by considering its effect. The effect has been to make the world conscious of a new situation which has been developing for some months.

We may assume that almost certainly this was the calculated move of Stalin. For it is to Russia's interest to make the world realize how radically the position of Russia has changed since 1918.

Only by appreciating the change in the Russian position can we hope to begin to judge what is to come.

and untrue, probable and in-able, in the rumors that Russia from every capital in Europe change can, I think, be quite simply.

Germany, Italy and Japan signatories of a paper called anti-Comintern pact. This is them publicly on record as the avowed enemies of Russia, Communism, and in the countries the avowal has been accepted at its face value by the governments and by public generally. Both in the Czech which led to Munich, and in Spanish civil war, the contention in Great Britain held the axis was directed against Russia, that ideologically the Europe was Communism, Fascism, and that, from the view of imperialist aggression the Russian Ukraine was the objective.

But since September, it has usually become clear to the ruling classes in Britain and France that this whole conception of Russia was a total misunderstanding. It has realized that while the Comintern pact is directed against Russia, the action of many Italy and Japan is directed against Russia at all true that, according to the Russia lies inside the Rome-Tokio triangle, and the world has believed, because it wished to believe it, that the actual aggression would follow the line of the ideological propaganda.

Actually, the aggression has been the exactly opposite direction that is to say, not inward at Russia at the center of the angle, but outward against Great Britain and France.

The anti-Comintern pact has not out to be an alliance against Russia but an instrument for isolating and neutralizing Russia, the partners were carving out empires elsewhere.

The anti-Comintern pact has been a very effective instrument. For it succeeded in persuading British and French that the question was whether they would come allies of Russia in order to save Soviet Russia from dismemberment and destruction.

It is only in the past few months actually since the empires of Russia and Moravia, that the French have begun to realize that the real question was whether Russia would become their ally in the event of war.

As soon as they did realize that it was Russia, they objected that it was Russia, not they, had to decide whether to intervene in a European war, they began to woo Russia. At once the began to woo Russia also.

The propaganda ceased to be Bolshevik and began to be "the capitalist democracies," became temptingly hostile to Mr. Berlin, who dreams of Communism and is scrupulously polite to Stalin.

Japan drew back from a military intervention which might have been interpreted in Moscow as Russia, and began to expand aggressively, not toward Siberia away from Siberia, southward toward Hongkong, French Indo-China, the Dutch East Indies and Singapore.

At the same time, the Italian

Profit-Taking in Market After Prices Are Lifted on Improvement in Foreign Centers and Hopes Coal Stoppage Would Be Ended.

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP).—The main group of active bonds kept steadily to the advance side of today's market despite a slower trading pace and tendency of investors to take profits on Tuesday's sharp upturn.

Profits-taking was 12 to 17-32nds of a point higher as the final hour neared. Gains of fractions to a point or more were in the great majority among corporate issues.

Foreign dollar bonds making progress included Poland 5s, Buenos Aires 4 1/2s and Italian 7s.

Profits-taking became more insistent during the final hour. Top prices were pared considerably and in many cases converted into small losses.

Closing a point or more higher were Consolidated Edison 3 1/2s at 104 1/2, American & Foreign 2 1/2s at 101 1/2, and Brooklyn Union Gas 5s at 90.

Small losses at the end of the day were in sharp contrast to forenoon activities. The day opened on an optimistic note, with overnight orders on traders' books.

Morning purchases ran ahead of yesterday, and the day's volume was 692,290 shares.

There were frequent periods of inactivity, while speculating interest was watched to see what the trend might be, then selling developed at an increased tempo.

Aiding the morning optimism were two main factors, an upward trend in American securities in London and Amsterdam and a firm Paris Bourse and rising hope that the coal stoppage would be ended speedily by President Roosevelt's efforts.

Among the Losers.

However, as the coal conferees worked in New York with no reports of progress toward an agreement, some traders appeared to lose confidence in the parity.

Bonds remained close to yesterday's levels and commodities became uneven late in the day after a fairly active session.

Among the leading stocks which ended the session with fractional losses were United States Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Martin, Phelps Dodge, du Pont and Santa Fe.

Clinging to slender advances were Eastman Kodak, St. Louis Gypsum, Paramount and Douglas.

The British pound advanced 1-16 cent while the franc held unchanged in relation to the dollar.

Slightly lower in the curb were Electric Bond & Share, Consolidated Copper Mines, Fenrood and Niagara Hudson Power.

The declaration of a dividend by Paramount Pictures, Inc., the first since the company's reorganization four years ago, was reflected in an advance of one-eighth of a point.

Rails benefited from a variety of factors, including improved revenue reports, pending Federal legislation and hopes that the coal stoppage would speedily end.

This latter factor also was regarded as partly responsible for the acceleration in steel stock purchases.

Market analysts expressed the opinion that, with inventories in many major industries running low, any favorable domestic news would be likely to result in higher share prices. The domestic angle was stressed from reports of the present hiatus in reports of European dangers. Traders, they said, could be expected to take quick profits constantly as the market works higher.

Commonwealth Edison Active as $114,500,000 Refunding Is at Lower Rate.

Wall Street Regards Action as Expression of Feeling of Lessened War Tension.

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP).—Leading European currencies continued buoyant early today in what Wall Street regarded as an expression of the feeling that the war tension had lessened, at least for the time being.

WINTER WHEAT CROP ESTIMATE IS CUT 5,291,000 BUSHELS

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP).—The Agricultural Department today announced that it had cut its estimate of the 1939 winter wheat crop by 5,291,000 bushels.

The department's latest estimate of the crop is 1,018,229,000 bushels, down from 1,023,520,000 bushels in its previous estimate.

The department said the cut was based on reports from farmers in the North Central States that the crop was smaller than previously estimated.

The department's estimate of the 1939 winter wheat crop is the lowest since 1931, when the crop was estimated at 1,018,229,000 bushels.

LEADING CURRENCIES

OF EUROPE BUOYANT

Wall Street Regards Action as Expression of Feeling of Lessened War Tension.

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP).—Leading European currencies continued early today in what Wall Street traders regarded as an expression of the feeling war tension abroad had lessened, at least for the time being.

The Netherlands guilder, pegged by the official control fund around 53.68 cents in terms of the dollar during the March crisis, showed a new gain of around 13 cents in early dealings today, and was quoted around 53.74 cents, a new recovery peak. Guilders for future delivery also were stronger, with the discount on 30-day futures narrowing to .02 of a cent from .024 of a cent yesterday. The improvement was attributed to both short-covering and improved sentiment. The guilder was under heaviest pressure of all principal European money during the March crisis.

The Swiss franc, which had been holding a steady course the last few days, advanced .024 of a cent today to 22.49 cents and Swiss francs for future delivery were quoted nominally at a small premium, the first time a premium has been quoted on a forward rate for a leading European currency since last March.

Given impetus by the lowering of the Belgian bank rate, the franc advanced to the best level in some time, with the 90-day currency at a discount of 18 of a cent, compared with .25 of a cent yesterday.

The British pound sterling for immediate delivery remained unchanged at around $4.86 3/16, but the discount on 90-day sterling narrowed to 15-16 cents from 17-18.

Midway in the afternoon the British pound was 1-16 cent higher, while the franc held unchanged in relation to the dollar.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Foreign exchange rates follow (Great Britain in dollars, others in cents): Great Britain, 4.86; 60-day bills, 4.87 1/4; Canada, Montreal, 1 New York, 98.50; Canada, New York in Montreal, 100.40; Belgium, 17.02; Denmark, 20.91; Finland, 2.07 1/4; France, 2.65; Germany, 40.13 1/4; benevolent, 20.35, travel 20.35; Greece, 85; Hungary, 19.70; Italy, 5.26 1/4; Yugoslavia, 2.30; Netherlands, 53.72; Norway, 22.53; Portugal, 4.27; Rumania, 72; Sweden, 24.12 1/2; Switzerland, 22.49; Argentina, 31.21; Brazil, 6.05; Mexico, Cty, 20.00; Japan, 27.31; Hongkong, 28.87; Shanghai, 16.15. Rates in spot cables unless otherwise indicated.

LONDON, May 10 (AP).—The United States dollar was off 1-16 of a cent in terms of sterling in final foreign exchange transactions today. The unit was quoted at 4.86 3/16 to the pound, compared with a similar rate for sterling in New York overnight. Exchange on London 176.75.

PARIS, May 10 (AP).—The franc quoted for the United States dollar was 27.75 francs (2.649 cents to the franc) in the foreign exchange market today. This compared with the franc at 2.650 cents in New York overnight. Exchange on London 176.75.

In the Bourse principal rents issues were: 3 per cent, 79.90 francs; 4 1/2 "A", 87.80; 4 1/2 "B", 154.50.

Agricultural Department Forecasts Crop of 543,928,000 Bushels.

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP).—The Agricultural Department forecast today a winter wheat crop of 543,928,000 bushels, based on conditions May 1. This compares with an estimate of 549,219,000 bushels a month ago.

Officials must determine on the basis of this forecast whether supplies for the coming marketing year are sufficiently large to require a farmer referendum on marketing quotas to keep surpluses off the market.

Assuming a spring wheat crop of 200,000,000 bushels and a surplus of 271,000,000 bushels from previous crops, the department said the indicated winter wheat production would provide a total supply of 1,018,928,000 bushels.

Officials have stated that a total supply exceeding 1,050,000,000 might make a referendum necessary. Quotas would have to be approved by two-thirds of the farmers voting. The election would be held between now and June 10.

Production of winter wheat last year was 636,637,000 bushels. It averaged 560,160,000 bushels in the 10 years, 1929-37.

Rye production, indicated by May 1 conditions, was reported as 46,704,000 bushels, compared with 55,039,000 bushels last year, and 36,330,000, the 10-year average.

REFUNDING BY UTILITY OF $114,500,000 ANNOUNCED

CHICAGO, May 10 (AP).—James Simpson, chairman of the Commonwealth Edison Co., said negotiations had been tentatively completed for the private sale to 15 insurance companies of $114,500,000 of 40 year 3 1/4 per cent bonds.

The proceeds, he said, would be used to refund a like amount of the company's 4 per cent and 3 1/4 per cent bonds. The sale price will be 102 and accrued interest. Issuance of the new bonds will be subject to the approval of the Illinois Commerce Commission.

FOREIGN MARKETS AT A GLANCE

LONDON, May 10 (AP).—Favorable British trade indices, easing international political tension and improvement in Wall Street attracted broader demand in the stock market today. British funds closed higher and industrial advanced, with tobacco, motor and brewery issues most prominent. Excellent steel output figures helped metal shares and rubbers also were firm. Railroad issues reacted sharply on disappointing traffic receipts. Foreign bonds and trans-Atlantic finished higher.

PARIS, May 10 (AP).—The Bourse closed generally steady today. Renten ended 10 centimes down to 50c up. Bank of France gained 70 francs and Suez Canal was up 170. Royal Dutch also moved forward.

Old-Led Stock Trade.

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP).—The Securities Commission reported today three transactions by customers with odd lot dealers or specialists on the New York Stock Exchange for May 9: 3145 purchases involving 83,072 shares; 3906 sales involving 99,104 shares.

New York Sugar.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Futures No. 3 closed unchanged to 1 higher, sales 1600 tons. Close May 1.95; July 2.03; Sept. 2.05.

U. S. Steel Corporation Shipments.

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP).—Shipments of finished steel products by U. S. Steel Corporation subsidiaries during April totaled 701,459 tons, a decline of 66,431 from March. In April last year they totaled 501,972 tons.

For the first four months of 1939 shipments totaled 2,936,668 tons, compared with 2,067,216 in the comparable 1938 period, an increase of 869,452 tons.

John Anderson and Heywood Brown whooped it up for the winner, the former declaring that the play gave the Pulitzer board glory instead of vice versa . . . The woe of the week over at our house was Variety's page 49 report that "Hellszapoppin'" had reached its first million dollars, and the sub-head which went this way: "Equity takes credit for its success by forcing legit classification upon it, rather than vaude." . . . Oh, sure.

THE WIRELESS: That "Author, Author" has a right to be much better. S. J. Perelman is a very able whip-cracker and his ad-libbage is good. Quips on a Movie Set

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 10.

ROSALIND RUSSELL

THE quips flying around "The Women" set at Metro had all the sharpness of a machine gun, with blank cartridges. Rosalind Russell gets more implication in a look than most people do with a line. But her lines have an edge, too. When speaking of an ex-husband, she says: "That rat—I wouldn't trust him at Alcatraz."

Her dress stops traffic—three huge elongated eyes with fake eyelashes on the bodice and in the right places! Dress is two shades of purple, with scarlet belt, a pancake hat with a mess of full-blown flowers, complete with eyeglasses and chewing gum. Sure, it's all part of "The Women."

Joan Fontaine is always addressed as Olivia de Havilland's sister by Director George Cukor and Joan replies: "O K, Mr. Cukor, just wait till Vic Fleming takes us over." Joan looks like a page boy with military suit and bright silver buttons in "The Women." Florence Nash is a lady novelist. When asked by Roz what she is, she says, "I'm the woman all men abhor—an old maid, just a frozen asset."

Guilford has done a swell hair job. Errol heard an original style. Roz does the old French twist up the back. Florence Nash's is out short and brushed like a fan off the neck. Joan with a curled bang. Cukor, keeping in the mood, wore a bright red sweater. And Joan Crawford won't catch up with "The Women" 'til next month!

PEOPLE ARE wondering who Nicolai Yoshkin is. Denies he's a Russian Prince. But since his performance as "The Man" (Joseph Goebbels) in the Nazi Spy picture, he's in demand for half a dozen big parts. He's a new kind of heavy, thin lipped, thin hipped, but with a menace like a two-edged sword. He's a talented painter, had a show at the Marie Stern gallery in New York last winter. His most striking portrait is of Marlene Dietrich. Turned down lead in the stage play of "Wuthering Heights" for Nazi Spy.

Edith Head, Paramount designer, who's made clothes for our biggest stars, is having the time of her life, but not the kind you think. She's designing clothes for kids in "The Star Maker." Picture's in period and the skirts have to be more than a ruffle and the mothers are weeping and wailing. "But how can our babies get on in pictures if you cover up their dainty dimpled knees?"

Improvement Needed.
Some people like to take the viewpoint that science doesn't include morals. That is, they say knowledge of a certain fact in nature is permissible, whether it is to be put to a good or constructive use or not. They advocate that ability to make explosives, ammunition and arms does not carry with it responsibility for what is done with them. But such is not the case; science must learn.

Your year ahead can bring happier conditions in release from restrictions if you use extra effort, especially March 27-April 12, 1940. Whole year strong for personal growth, development. Danger: Oct. 26-Nov. 5; March 5-23, 1940. Friday.
Improving; but not for wild schemes; build and act slowly.

Answers to Questions on Social Usage

An Occasion When an Engraved Card of Thanks Would Be Poor Taste.

By Emily Post

Dear Mrs. Post: I've noticed a tendency, perhaps just in this part of the country, to get engraved thanks after sending flowers to a funeral, or to some one sick at the hospital. I myself think it is a horrible practice. But people who are aware of the nice things in life, more than are punctilious to a degree, have been doing it. And when receiving such a card from a man who was in the diplomatic corps for many years and who lives on things like protocols, I thought it high time to write you and ask what you think of this wholesale acknowledgment and whether it is done in other places by nice people. I can't believe it, but you would know the answer.

Answer: An engraved card of thanks to anyone who has sent flowers is inexcusably rude. But engraved cards of thanks sent out by the families of officials (and this perhaps might include certain members of the diplomatic corps) to hundreds of constituents, who have done more than send a card through the mail, is quite proper.

Dear Mrs. Post: I don't mind having my father give me away at my wedding; in fact I would like to have him even though after his divorce from mother he humiliated us by marrying a woman of questionable reputation. Frankly, I don't want father's wife at my wedding in church and will omit my father entirely if this is the only way I can keep her out. It seems, however, too bad to let her come between us. I'm sure father must have his own regrets about marrying her and it would be cruel to him not to let him come to my wedding. The question is, can I have him without having her?

Answer: If you can see him alone you can tell him that you want him to go up the aisle with you and give you away, just as every father gives his daughter away. At the same time tell him why his wife will not be welcome. This explanation should not hurt your father's feelings because her absence is in many communities an actual requirement of social convention. It is only among people whose conventions are relaxed that the second husband and his wife would, under such circumstances, all be present together.

TODAY we take pleasure in having as our guest J. Gildersleeve Fogelheimer, enterprising undergraduate, who will say a few words in defense of goldfish and phonograph record—being among collegehands. Take it away, Mr. Fogelheimer—
"Hell, Ma! Hello, Pa! I want to thank everybody for their applause letters which have done so much to encourage me and my pals in other colleges in our efforts to keep the goldfish and phonograph eating records here in America. I was one of the first to eat both goldfish and phonograph records, and later to eat the goldfish bowl as well, to say nothing of phonograph needles, of which I have become quite fond. Some people may wonder why it is that upstanding young Americans like me and my fellow gulpers engage in such practices. If you have ever eaten some of the food they serve in fraternity houses, you will know why we relish a tasty wafer made by simply smashing a wafer recording with a hammer, and dipping the toothsome morsels in mayonnaise. At least the record is brittle, which is more than you can say for some of the waffles consumed by yours truly. Some may ask what are my favorite recordings for eating purposes. I like the classics, but I wouldn't think of eating a Benny Goodman recording. As my time is getting short, and I am not feeling so good tonight, I would like merely to say that after eating some of the hamburgers they sell to young fellows like myself, almost any of you would enjoy say, "The Blue Danube" swimming in butter and plenty of genuine maple syrup.

BIG SISTER to YOUNG AMERICA

How Elizabeth Woodward Helps Solve Problems of Country's Sub-Debs.

By Clarissa Start

PLAYING big sister to young America is Elizabeth Woodward's job, a job which young America has more or less spontaneously presented her with, ever since she became editor of that popular aid for youthful problems, the sub-deb page of the Ladies' Home Journal, as well as adviser-in-chief for the million-odd members of 10,000 sub-deb clubs which enthusiastically dot the country.

"And don't think that's not a responsibility," the frankly plump but very smart looking young editor gasped, as she settled herself in the bridge room at Stix, Baer & Fuller, a room into which she had crept for privacy, and whose emptiness—except for the tables and chairs, ghosts of grand slams, and us—must have been a relief from her whirlwind day and a half here, in which she established sub-deb headquarters at Stix, handed out advice and assurance to the 550 St. Louis and vicinity sub-debs who besieged her, and still managed to look cool and exude the confidence of one who knows all the answers. America's Big Sister has to know the answers.

"They don't have a problem or a party or an initiation that they don't write in to find out all about it," she admitted. "I get over half a million letters a year, from clubs in this country and foreign countries, and not only from the sub-debs themselves, usually around the ages of 16 and 17, but from the younger ones, the 12 to 15-year-olds, who are just getting into the game. They don't want to be married, and even from married women long past the sub-deb stage. Sub-deb club members never seem to give up their clubs. They might change the name and become the Deb Club, and then the Young Married, but once they've become sub-debs they're inoculated forever."

Besides answering the letters of this volume of correspondents accumulated in the 10 years of the Sub-Deb page's existence, and writing the page itself, Elizabeth Woodward also authors those clever sub-deb booklets on problems which deserve to be dealt with more elaborately.

"We have the girls trained to send in their 3-cent stamp for the booklets and they know that in the booklets I have space to spill all the virtues sound aluring and out and tell all," she explained this phase of her duties. "The only trouble is that the booklets take two or three months to prepare and then they're so cute they should be in the magazine for millions of girls. I'm adopting the pompous tone of the stern parent, say, 'No daughter of mine would do that.' Teachers and preachers talk about the moral significance and things like that. But I just say it's a heck of a lot of fun—if you can keep the situation under control. Then I give them a list of 10 ways to avoid the good night kiss, and more ways of remaining master or mistress of the situation if they don't want to avoid it. Naturally, you can't just open a door to youth and say, 'Walk right in and help yourself,' without setting limits."

No wonder Elizabeth Woodward and her "Lines of Least Resistance" seem to sprout shiny wings in the eyes of harassed mothers and fathers. Elizabeth Woodward herself is in character building. It's just a somewhat of a success story, for-turers have hopped on the band great big lie, because that's what it came straight from Wellesley wagon and helped them make a magazine job, without any of the usual intermediary steps, and they not only stand on their own feet now, they lead other people. In 10 years we've found out their opinions are worth listening to, and our department's given them a chance to lead, especially to lead boys.

"It's an established fact that all girls of 16 are four or five years older in poise and experience than boys the same age. They stay that way until they're 30 and then the men go right ahead of them and aren't at all up to the girls and as a result of leap year and Dutch treat parties and all the things brought into prominence by the depression they've become plain spoiled."

An anxious delegation at that moment interrupted Miss Woodward's worries over the faults of the latter and junior men, but as we galloped toward the elevator and her next appointment, someone said, "Speak- ing of men, did you know Miss Woodward's a brand-new bride?"

"Yes, I've been married just three months," Sister Woodward admitted with a blush. "To a wonderful, tall dark Frenchman, whose English isn't so good and who has to ask me now and then if I'm talking English, American or Wood-ward."

"What's more," she went on, anxiously creeping in her tone, "I don't know how to tell my sub-debs about him. I'm afraid they'll put me into the old married woman class."

Personally we doubt if anyone with the understanding of and sympathy for youth, that the Sub-Deb editor possesses, will ever be placed in the classification of an "old married woman."

South Is Set When He Fails To Play King

His Faulty Decision Prevents End Play at Expense of West.

By Ely Culbertson

"M Y dear Mr. Culbertson: The more I play and look on at bridge, the more I am convinced that in every hand there is one pivot or key play around which the success or failure of the contract hinges. Sometimes, this key play occurs on the opening lead; at other times, it depends upon where declarer wins this first trick; oft times it waits until the latter part of the hand, but come when it may, it is inexorably there at all times, waiting to swoop down on an innocent victim."

"You will note that in the hand below the all-important play came up on the fourth trick."

West did not make the usual opening of the 'unbid suit,' which would have made it fairly simple for declarer, but decided on the deuce of clubs. He felt that North might have opened the bidding with a three card club suit and decided to investigate this immediately. Declarer won the opening lead with dummy's queen and led a small spade. East played low, declarer put on the jack and West won with the king. Realizing that there would be no nourishment in the club suit, West shifted to the deuce of diamonds. East went up with the ace and immediately led back the four spot. Declarer now had to make the play upon which the contract was to succeed or fail. Of the three remaining diamonds in declarer's hand, the play of one would mean success and of two, failure. Declarer intuitively knew that the finesse was off and so had to decide between the king and the six. Hoping against hope that West would return a diamond into the K-10 tenace, declarer played the six."

"West won with the eight spot and did not make the diamond return into declarer's tenace that the latter had hoped for. West exited with the ace and another club and defenders finally took another diamond and a heart trick, thus setting the contract one trick."

"The play of the diamond king at trick four would bring up an interesting end play on West. After the black suits were run, declarer would have remaining in his hand the Q-10 of hearts and the 10 of diamonds (having discarded one diamond on dummy's fourth spade). The only three cards that West could safely bear down to would be the K-8 of hearts and the singleton diamond jack. It would then be child's play for declarer to throw West in with the diamond and force a heart lead away from the king into the combined heart tenace position."

"Was declarer's decision to play the diamond six very bad, or was it just his misfortune to guess the 'wrong play at the right moment'?"

"J. M. Chicago."
I agree with my correspondent that declarer had to make his decision at the fourth trick, but I am afraid I have no sympathy for the play of the six spot. If he had made up his mind that the finesse was off, then his only hope of fulfilling the contract was to find the heart king also in the possession of West. This being the case, he had no other alternative than to go up with the king and either force West to make the wrong discard or thrust him into the end position described above.

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT.

THE following morning Billy telephoned Kyle and told him to come right over. Newton knew from the boy's excited voice that something had happened, so he dropped his work and hurried to the guest house. Billy met him at the edge of the lake.

"Helen cabled Jeff! And she had a cable from him. She didn't let us read it, but she asked who had told him, and Helen said she had. And she's upstairs!" He fell in step with Kyle. "Sis said Helen had no right to let Jeff know."

Helen was standing on the porch when they got there. There was a way. Today is Saturday, Kyle. Stubborn look about her face, and she was waiting for him. "Yes, today is Saturday," Kyle had been saying that to himself ever since he had read the cables, while he was standing by the window looking from the garden to Andrea, now while he was talking to Andrea.

Today was Saturday, tomorrow was Sunday. Monday Jeff would come. Monday morning. He thought that if Helen had been in the room near him, he would have enjoyed nothing better than to put his fingers tight around her neck and strangle her.

"Mrs. Emery will find out. If Marie doesn't tell her somebody else will," Andrea whispered as she put the cables in a pile on the desk. "Maybe she knows now. I've got a feeling that she knows what is in all my letters and cables from Jeff."

There was a knock on the door, and the sound of Marie's voice. "Mrs. Emery wants Mr. Newton at the house. Mr. Crandall just phoned."

She swore to herself as he got up.

"You see — it's probably about me." The girl put her hands together against her throbbing temples.

It was about Andrea. Kyle had no more than closed the door of Mrs. Emery's writing room when she plunged into the subject of Andrea.

"I understand Westcott is coming back from Lima. Gets here Monday morning by some special plane. Trying to make a mess of things, I suppose. What do you know about it?"

Kyle honestly told her what he knew about it. There was nothing else to do. Mrs. Emery listened attentively, nodding now and then. What he told her agreed perfectly with the information she had received by telephone from Marie.

"Quite a simple matter," she announced when he finished. "There's no need for Andrea to get upset about it, poor child. We'll send her away for awhile. She needs a holiday anyway."

"She and Sylvie can take a trip. They can start, say, tomorrow morning. That will give them time enough to pack." She pressed a buzzer on her desk.

"Mr. Westcott can try and find them if he wants to, but I don't think he'll be able to. He'll find out that his trip was all for nothing. And if necessary, we can change our plans on the wedding, have it a little sooner than we expected."

and perhaps not in the chapel after all."

BISHOP came to the door in answer to her ring. "Tell Sylvie I want her right away," she said to the butler, and then to Kyle, "That will be all for awhile. I'm going into town as soon as I talk to Sylvie, and won't be back until late in the afternoon."

Kyle went into town, too, as soon as he saw her limousine leave. He had in his car the recording machine, and the two records which Billy had made in the guest house library.

His first errand was to the shop where he had bought the machine, and when he came out, he was hurried but successful. The manager had promised to have the wax records made into permanent hard rubber records by the following morning.

His next errand was to a friend's house on Rawlins road where he stayed for an hour, and left his recording machine.

His third errand was to a house in the east district of town, a shabby brown frame one-story house with a dried brown lawn in front. He didn't go into the house, he simply drove past it slowly, and checked the address carefully. It was one which he had secured from Crandall's books last evening.

Crandall thought he wanted the home address of Marshall, one of the butlers, so that flowers might be sent to Marshall's sister who was ill.
